Pioneer Hotel In Sale

The sale of Woodside's Pioneer Hotel appeared imminent this week with the publication of notices of intended mortgage and sale. The buyer is listed as Dockins, Schmidt, Von Wanger and Co., Inc., of San Francisco.

The sale, scheduled for August 31 at City Title Insurance Co. in San Francisco, includes two general on sale liquor licenses, furniture and fixtures, and equipment stock in trade.

Present hotel owner is Mrs. Bodee Cominoli.

Negro Job Report Shows Local Gains

Job opportunities for Negroes here are looking up.

This was the gist of a report to members of the South San Mateo County chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People who met in East Palo Alto Tuesday night.

The reporter was Harry Bremond, co-chairman of the NAACP chapter's "action" committee on employment. Reports also came in from Don Halvorson, co-chairman of the education committee and Solomon Smith, housing committee co-chairman.

mendation of legal action if the Sequoia Union High School District board does not change Menlo-Atherton - Ravenswood High School attendance areas.

The committee's emphasis will be the board's alleged creation of de facto segregation at Ravenswood, Halvorson said.

Bremond, introduced by chapter president Ken Washington, noted that negotiations with the president of a Menlo Park-based chain of supermarkets are continuing.

A letter has been written to the president seeking his feelings on the hiring of Negroes in a local store which has a Negro clientele, Bremond said. Further committee recommendations will await his answer, he said.

On the brighter side, Bremond cited several job placements made through the NAACP job listing service which is operated in conjunction with the negotiating committee.

Littleman's Market has employed three Negroes as clerks and a local ice cream and hamburger establishment has agreed that a bi-racial hiring policy was a good one, he said.

A local man also appears to have qualified to be hired as a sales person at the Mountain View store of a nation-wide chain not noted for the hiring of Negroes.

WE GROW 'EM BIG . . . . . in Menlo Park. Mrs. William T. Casey, 1233 Mills St., thinks she must have something in the way of a championship flower, in the form of the 15-foot hollyhock which sprouted in her back yard. She said it came from seeds which dropped from a previous hollyhock, but it was more ordinary.

Incidence High:

Heavy Outbreak of Mumps Here Is Shown in County Statistics

A total of 40 cases of mumps were reported by Menlo Park doctors during June, indicating a heavier-than-usual outbreak of the childhood communicable disease, according to the county department of health and welfare.

This was a greater incidence than that of any community in the county, except for San Bruno, which reported 48 cases.

Normally, health and welfare department workers have stated, reports are usually less complete when incidence of a given disease is light, than is the case when there is a serious outbreak of any given malady.

Besides the mumps, the following disease incidences were reported here: four cases of chicken pox, one case of German measles, two cases of gonorrhea, three cases of measles, three cases of strep infection, five cases of syphilis and one case each of tuberculosis and salmonellosis.

Atherton reported a single case of syphilis during the month.

In East Palo Alto, seven cases of gonorrhea, four cases of syphilis and five cases of tuberculosis were found.

Woodside reported a single case of gonorrhea and two strep infections.

At Last:

SEE LIGHT

The division of highways apparently has seen the light. The signal light, that is. And they don't like the way it operates, either.

The signal in question is that set of lights which "control" traffic at the Ravenswood and Menlo Avenue intersections with El Camino Real.

In a letter read to the city council Tuesday night, the highway people said that the pattern of operation should be changed.

The present control pattern which switches light on and off was the division of highways' own idea.

Atherton Police Seize Suspects In Burglary

The suspicions of an officer resulted in the rapid solution of a market burglary here early Sunday.

Officer Roger Keely of the Atherton police department was the suspicious policeman. He decided to find out what was going on when a car containing three juveniles was spotted cruising slowly along Atherton Avenue at 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

Stopping the vehicle, Keely noticed several bottles of wine in the rear seat.

Ordering the three juveniles to open the trunk of the car, he spoted some cartons of cigarets, cases of beer and bottles of champagne.

Checking by radio and questioning uncovered the fact that the three youths had got their beverages from the J&F Market, 3207 Alameda de las Pulgas.

The boys were aged 15, 16 and 17 years of age and included one Menlo Park youth—the 16-year-old. The other boys involved were from San Francisco and Petaluma.

AUTO STOLEN

A 1958 Austin- Healy, owned by James Dalton, 641 Windsor Drive, Tuesday was reported to have been stolen from the Southern Pacific parking lot between 6:40 a.m. and 4 p.m.

NO DAMAGE SEEN

A rubbish fire which firemen were called to extinguish at 6:55 p.m. at 81 Balleau Way caused no damage, the firemen said.

Ravensood, Menlo Park School Talk Set

School boards of the Menlo Park and Ravenswood elementary districts will meet in the near future to discuss common problems and unification.

If the talk proves fruitful, a meeting including the members of the Las Lomitas School District board of trustees will be attempted.

The talk between Ravenswood and Menlo Park district boards was initiated earlier this month by Dr. Hiram Mears, seated as local board president on July 2.

In a "take the bull by the horns" approach, he contacted Dr. Andrew White, seated as Ravenswood district's board chairman July 1, to set up the meeting.

To the other members of the Menlo Park School District board Tuesday, Dr. Mears reported:

"Dr. White and I had lunch together and agreed that almost any unification plan for this area would almost certainly call for combining the Menlo Park and Ravenswood school districts.

"Since this is so we thought it would be constructive if we were to have all members of both boards meet, so that we could share our thoughts on unification and develop understanding between us."

Other trustees agreed in substance. Mrs. Bea O'Donnell said she'd like to know more about Ravenswood's problems; Elwood Williams said there would be discussions, but no decisions.

TIMING

Timing for the combined meeting was pretty much left up to the Ravenswood board, but it will probably be on a Monday night.

The Ravenswood board has suggested July 29 as a good date; Dr. Mears said he'd be out of town that night and asked that the administration inquire to find out if the meeting could be held either July 22 or Aug. 12.

Menlo Park Elementary School District has a pupil population of 2300, and a tax rate of $2.16. Ravenswood School District has a tax rate of $3.24 per $100 assessed valuation and accommodates approximately 5500 pupils.

In another action regarding unification, board members heard Elwood Williams discuss a proposed July 30 meeting concerning unification of the Sequoia High School District.

He said he thought representatives of all eight elementary school districts in the Sequoia district should be present.

The meeting will be concerned with the merits of the so-called "Searsville Plan."

3 Local Scouts Attending World Meet

Three Menlo-Atherton Boy Scouts embarked Wednesday morning from San Francisco Airport for the 11th World Jamboree for Boy Scouts. Rodger Poore, Herman Welz and Peter Hertzmann will be joining 14,000 other Boy Scouts from 70 nations for a 12-day camp on the Plains of Marathon, about 28 miles northeast of Athens, Greece.

The aim of the jamboree is to "unite the youth of the world, strengthen ties of friendship, promote understanding, and forge world peace."

Rodger Poore, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Poore, is a 17-year old senior at Menlo-Atherton High School. He lives at 97 Isabella Ave. in Atherton.

Herman Welz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Welz, is a 17-year old senior at Woodside High School. He lives at 1315 Elder Ave., Menlo Park.

Peter Hertzmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Hertzmann, is a 15-year-old sophomore at Woodside High School. He lives at 65 Politzer Drive, Menlo Park.

All three boys are active members of Explorer Post 107 in Menlo Park, and other scouting organizations around the county. They are attending the jamboree under the leadership of Elvis Frapwell of Palo Alto.

Keeping Watch:

Schoolmen See Possible Tax Benefits from 'Row Houses'

Menlo Park School District stands to benefit financially from the proposed Park Forest garden apartment and row house development, if builders' projections of pupil density are anywhere near correct.

The development would be on 9.1 acres of former Roger Reynolds nursery property in the block bounded by El Camino Real, Buckthorn Avenue, Encinal Avenue and the railroad tracks.

Reporting on possible benefits to the school district of the development was Franklyn O. White, superintendent, who has been attending meetings of the county planning commission at which the proposal has been reviewed.

White observed that he didn't think the proposed development could be stopped. The 9.1 acre site will hold 71 "row houses," 72 "garden apartments" in three buildings of 24 units each, and 80 garden apartments in other buildings.

Hillpark Homes of Los Altos is the developer.

The total development probably will have an assesed valuation of $1,250,000, White said. Thus the school district might realize as much as $10,000 a year per acre in taxes.

He said the builders' experience in Los Altos, where they have constructed similar developments, indicate child density in such places is low. The builders claim a density of ".065 children per dwelling unit," he reported.

School District Trustee Elwood Williams observed that this was probably a low figure, since the development will include some three-bedroom apartments. These will rent for $400 a month.

Still There:

NURSERY

References to "high density development" and "row houses" on the Roger Reynolds Nursery property" give a wrong impression, a spokesman for the nursery said this week.

He added that the nursery doesn't contemplate going out of business, either—an impression which has been gained by the publicity

He explains that the nursery still owns five acres fronting on El Camino Real and Glenwood and this is not involved in plans for the dense apartment development.

Five New Jobs

Councilmen Tuesday started mulling over a "study budget" for Menlo Park which, if passed as is, will see the city budgeting $1,101,210 for the current fiscal year. It would be financed by the city's present tax rate of 79 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

But there may be some changes. The budget forsees the establishment of five new positions on the city payroll, but does not take into account any pay raises other than normal increments in the present salary schedule.

Public hearing on the final budget will be held Aug. 13 before the city council.

If the budget is not modified, those to be hired will include two janitors, two police patrolmen and a park department foreman.

The city had a total of $165,915 on hand on June 30, this end of the last fiscal year. This is figured as part of the budget for the current year.

how the budget stacks up:

how the budget stocks up:

General government, $78,744. Actual expenditure last year was $62,201. Increase is due to the need for hiring two janitors to help maintain new city buildings and facilities. Also, a $2000 election expense item, not present in the last budget, is included in this one.

City clerk's office: $14,621, up slightly from $14,045.

City treasurer: $7432, as compared with $7190.

City manager's office: $35,-463; was $35,249 last year.

Police department: $397,143 proposed, $376,562 actually spent last year. Increase reflects the proposal to hire two more officers.

Street department: $126,795 asked; $118,287 actually spent last year.

Street lighting: $50,000 asked as compared to $47,000 actually spent last year. Increase will be used to install mercury vapor lights at critical intersections and for guard rails and other reflectors at still other locations.

Park department: $89,117 asked; last year this department spent $77,073. Proposed hiring of a foreman, a proposal to buy a new truck and the need for hiring personnel for whom vacancies still exists accounts for the increase.

Recreation: $132,215 as compared with $115,113 spent during the last fiscal year. Increase reflects operation of new buildings, primarily; however, some money is expected to come back from this in the form of rents and registration fees.

Engineering and inspection services: $27,900; was $25,800 last year. Increase reflects need for some new map books.

Municipal Court: Asking $5000. Was $4800 last year.

City attorney's office: $11,737 proposed, $10,273 spent in this department last year.

Planning: $20,546 asked. Last year this department spent $17,902.

Library: $94,450 proposed. Last year, $74,391 was spent. This year, the library hopes to get $60,214 in reimbursement from the county; last year, county reimbursement was $48,000.

Native Has Seen a Lot:

Fire District's Chief Carter Notes 35th Year

Yesterday, July 17, was one of special interest to the Menlo Park Fire District's top firefighter.

For on that day in 1928 Chief George Carter joined the district as a paid employee — one of three who joined volunteers in fighting fires in the area now covering Menlo Park, Atherton, North Fair Oaks and adjacent unincorporated areas.

Headquarters back in '28 was located at 1077 Merrill St., which is now occupied by an automobile garage. The district covered just about the same area as it does now, with the exception of the East Palo Alto area which had its own group of volunteers and a piece of apparatus kept in a private homeowner's garage.

The Merrill Street building was constructed in 1918 and the following year the department hired its first paid man.

About 25 volunteers and three hired men made up the Menlo Park force when Carter joined. Since then it has expanded to six stations and about 78 men.

Six years after Carter joined the district he was promoted to lieutenant. In 1941 he became a captain. He became an assistant chief in 1942, and was promoted to deputy chief on Aug. 15, 1949. He replaced Fire Chief Thomas Cuff in 1955 when station headquarters was moved to its present location at 300 Middlefield Road, Menlo Park.

Chief Carter recalls some of the earlier days in the district when young college men were hired for night duty. This way the boys would have a place to board, be able to put themselves through school, and the district would be sufficiently guard watched during the night. This is not practiced today.

One of the bigegst advancements which has occurred during these past 35 years, is the introduction of the radio as a communication system in firefighting.

"Before radio, it was really a problem," stated Chief Carter. "We would have to send somebody to call on the telephone and report where the fire was. Of course, not everyone had a telephone, either."

Among the biggest fires which occurred in Chief Carter's history with the district, and stands utmost in his memory is the lumber yard on El Camino Real, located where Ken's House of Pancakes now stands. The entire area was ablaze one night in the 1930s, before firemen arrived.

Sometime during the 1940s the Hopkins barn, which was filled with bailed hay, turned into an unforgettable fire, and another 1940's incident involved the Durant Insulated Pipe Company in East Palo Alto.

Chief Carter also recalls the mid-1950s blaze at the Silas Palmer estate off Watkins Avenue in Atherton. Since that time the structure has been rebuilt by the city of Atherton and is used for recreation.

Adorning his office at district headquarters are several plaques and certificates awarded to him during the past few years. Among them is a 1963 certificate honoring him for his past presidency of the Peninsula Fire Chiefs Association. There is also a plaque stating that he served a 1960-61 term as secretary-treasurer of the California Fire Chiefs Association. He was also a director of the Northern Division of California Fire Chiefs Association. Presently he is second vice president of the California Rural Fire Association.

The lifetime resident of Menlo Park is also affiliated with the International Association of Fire Chiefs, Pacific Coast Inter-Mountain Association of Fire Chiefs, Menlo Park Lions Club, Trinity Episcopal Church in Menlo Park, Boys' Club of Menlo Park, and the Sequoia Branch YMCA.

The 35 year man is also a member of the First Aid Commission of American Red Cross. "As you know," he said, "all officers are first aid instructors."

He has "attended everything available" in the form of training courses, especially those given by the Department of Industrial Education, State Department of Education.

Those listed in his file at district headquarters include some basic and some advanced training. Some of the major ones were Care and Use of Equipment, Fire Fighting Tactics, Fire Strategy, Fire Department Hydrolics, Instructor Training, Fire Department Administration, and scores of others.

Carter and his wife, Angela, live at 1299 Santa Cruz Ave. They are the parents of George Thomas Carter, a lieutenant with the Menlo Park Fire District; William Carter, a sergeant in the Army Signal Corps, now stationed in Germany; and Judy Carter, a dental assistant

School Board Views Budget

A $1,615,681 "publication budget" was approved by the Menlo Park School District board of trustees Tuesday night.

The budget differs only in slight detail from a previous "tentative study budget" placed before the trustees in June.

The "publication budget" must appear in print prior to the school board's Aug. 6 meeting, at which the budget will be subject of a public hearing.

Vacancies Exist in Summer School

It was announced this week that there are still vacancies in some classes for the second semester of the Sequoia Union High School District's summer high schools. The second semester will begin on Monday, July 22, on the Carlmont, Menlo-Atherton, Ravenswood, San Carlos and Woodside campuses.

Although many second-semester classes can be taken only if a student has had the first semester of the course, several classes may be entered on July 22 without previous study in that course.

Examples are: art, crafts, homemaking, basic industrial arts, drafting, and English fundamentals and arithmetic fundamentals (for freshmen). Students who have had some typing may qualify for a typing class.

Anyone who is interested in a Summer-School class should call the summer school coordinator at the school which he wishes to attend between 8 a.m. and 12 noon. The number to call is 369-1411.

Students Named To Dean's List

Seven area residents, students at San Francisco State College, have been named to the Dean's Honor list on the basis of grades achieved during the spring quarter.

They are Yasuko Nadayoshi, Patricia K. Lagiss, Carolyn Martin, Louise I. Rogers, Inara Upmanis, Moses G. Walker and David J. Riley.

CHILDREN, MATCHES

Children playing with matches Saturday were blamed for a rubbish fire at 550 Willow Road.

Sunday:

Valley United Presbyterians to Dedicate Site

The Valley United Presbyterian Church will mark its fifth anniversary next Sunday with the dedication of the site of its first sanctuary at 945 Portola Road. The main speaker of the program beginning at 2:30 p.m. will be Dr. Cary N. Weisiger III, pastor of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. H. George Vorsheim, pastor of Valley United, will dedicate the three-acre site and Kirk House, former residence of the Robert Williams family. Kirk House now houses the church's Christian education, fellowship, and administration activiites.

Also on hand will be representatives of neighboring churches of various denominations.

The new church property is a lovely wooded plot with a creek and grove of redwoods. The sanctuary will overlook the creek and redwoods in an initial building complex costing $200,000.

Also included in the initial complex will be an administration building and a Fireside Room. The church congregation has approved the general design of the first phase and work on it by Inwood and Hoover, Palo Alto architects.

The Rev. Vorsheim will keynote the church's 11 a.m. communion service in the Portola Valley School multi-use room. Title of his sermon is "What God Hath Wrought."

The congregation has worshiped at the Portola Valley School since the church was organized five years ago, and will continue there until completion of the new sanctuary. The Rev. Vorsheim said it is hoped construction on the new church will begin before the end of the year.

TAX FIGHT 'BURIED'

Menlo Park Schol District trustees happily buried their tax rate problems.

They voted to halt preparations for an Aug. 13 special election to firmly establish the once-invalidated rate, on learning that no appeals from a San Francisco circuit court decision are planned.

—Obituaries—

Frank Weber

Funeral services were held Monday for Frank Charles Weber, retired grocery store operataor who died at his home at 2060 Ashton Ave. Monday, after a long illness.

Weber had operated his grocery in San Francisco for 30 years, prior to moving to Menlo Park in 1944. He was a native of Quincy, Ill.

Surviving him are his wife, Mary; two sons, Frank Weber of Whittier and Edward Weber of Burlingame; one grandchild and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Arthur Hardy

Funeral services were held on July 5 at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church for Mrs. Arthur Hardy who passed away on July 2 after a brief illness.

Mrs. Hardy, whose given name was Evelyn, is survived by her husband, Dr. Arthur Hardy, and two children, Douglas Hardy and Mrs. Diane Brooks of San Jose, and one grandchild. The family home is at 344 Arden, Menlo Park.

A native of Tilden, Neb., Mrs. Hardy was a registered nurse having graduated from the University of Nebraska School of Nursing. She had lived in Menlo Park since 1947 and was 48 at the time of passing.

She was the sister of Mrs. Willoughby Christenson of Menlo Park and Quentin Dauphin of Sunnyvale.

Funeral arrangements were made by Roller and Hapgood, Redwood Chapel in Redwood City.

Marshall Bull

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Marshall Rankin Bull, 49, found dead at his home at 1161 Werth Ave., Sunday afternoon.

Police said the body was found hanging in the family garage; they termed the death a suicide.

Bull had moved to Menlo Park a year ago, after residing for many years in Portland, Ore. He had been a member of Al Kader Shrine of Portland and the Portland lodge of F&AM.

In Menlo Park, he had been named as a vestryman at St. Bede's Church and also sang in the choir there. For the past 27 years he had been a salesman for the Owens-Illinois Glass Co.

Survivors include his wife, Marion, who resides at the family home and three children: Marshall R. Bull Jr. of Portland, and Judith and Jenny Bull of Menlo Park.

He was a native of Lodi.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Bede's Church and were followed by private interment. Roller and Hapgood, Palo Alto funeral directors, were in charge of arrangements.

The family has indicated that contributions to the St. Bede's Episcopal Church Memorial Fund are preferred as memorials.

Erma Walley

Funeral services are to be held at 1:30 p.m. today for Mrs. Erma Irene Walley, who died at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital Sunday after a short illness. She was in Menlo Park to visit a daughter who resides here her home was in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Walley, who was 72, was a native of Ontario, Canada. She is survived by two sons, John H. Walley of Pacifica and R. B. Wagner of Beverly Hills, and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Switzer.

She is also survived by six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Services today are to be conducted from the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield Road in Palo Alto.

John Kelly

John J. Kelly, a resident of Menlo Park for six years, passed away in Mountain View July 12. The native of Pennsylvania was 42 at the time of his death.

Kelly and his wife, Eva, and their two daughters, Christine and Patricia, moved to Los Altos two years ago. Their address is 15 San Juan Court.

He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly of Trafford, Pennsylvania, and two brothers, Joseph Kelly of Daly City and James Kelly of Trafford.

Kelly was a metalurgist with Jersey Production Research Company.

PG&E Gains Breather On Spur Line

The Woodside Planning Commission this week has continued to August 22 deliberation on the proposed high tower "spur line" to power the Stanford linear accelerator. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. had requested the postponement in order to better answer questions put to the utility by the Save Our Skyline group, a citizens' organization opposing the line.

The PG&E use permit application originally had been scheduled for continued study at the commission's regular meeting next Thursday.

The initial public hearing on the application attracted more than 220 townspeople, largest crowd ever to attend a commission meeting.

The proposed 220,000 volt spur line would run 5.3 miles from the Skyline summit, paralleling Alembique Creek, through Woodside around the southern end of Searsville Lake, and thence to the accelerator.

Da Mants Go To Lake Tahoe

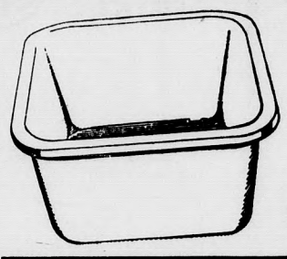

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Da Mant of East Palo Alto visited Lake Tahoe recently to attend the yearly Presbyterian Family Conference held at Zephyr Point.

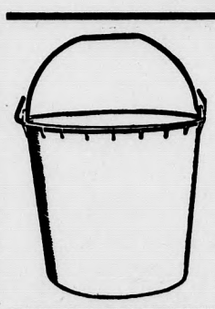

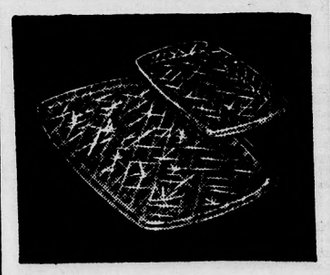

The Da Mants were accompanied by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Mowell of Redwood City. The family spent the week of June 29 through July 6 at the lake.

PG&E is getting a refund-and passing it on to you!

Who gets it? If you were a PG&E residential gas customer during May, 1963, you'll receive a refund in the form of a credit on your August bill. (If you've moved since May, your refund won't appear on your bill. Instead, we'll mail a check to the closing bill address you gave us.)

How much? We hate to keep you in suspense, but you'll have to wait and see your August bill. Under a plan authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission, refunds are based on the amount of natural gas used during the four months, February through May 1963. The more you used, the larger your refund.

Why a refund? Because we're getting one. The Federal Power Commission held we were charged too much by a supplier, El Paso Natural Gas Company. We're getting back $15,040,735.38—and passing every penny on to our 1.8 million natural gas customers.

How about commercial and industrial users? The majority of commercial customers will receive their refunds in the form of a credit on their August bill, determined in the same manner as for our residential customers. The larger commercial customers (those using more than 400,000 cubic feet of natural gas during February through May 1963) and all industrial customers will receive refund checks based on the amount of natural gas used between May 10, 1955 and December 31, 1957 in accordance with the plan authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission.

Boy, 9, Dies After Being Hit by Train

Private funeral services were held Monday for Thomas Stephen Prince, 9, who died Friday after being hit by a train here.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Grazio Prince of 411 Encinal Ave., the boy was reported by his parents to be "fascinated by trains." He had apparently scaled a five-foot fence separating his parents' home from the railroad right of way to get to the tracks.

The mishap occurred after a 2:45 p.m. train left Menlo Park depot, northbound.

Engineer R. V. Leonard said he was going about 30 miles per hour when he first saw the boy, who was seated on an outside rail and apparently listening to the sound of the train by putting his ear to the rail.

The boy looked up before being hit but apparently "froze," Leonard said. When hit, he was thrown off the tracks by the locomotive's pilot. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Palo Alto-Stanford hospital.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by a sister, Jane, and a brother, Stephen.

Priavte funeral services were conducted from the Johnston Colonial Mortuary, 650 Live Oak Ave.

Interment was set to be at New York City, New York, from whence the family moved three months ago.

Car Hits House, No Injuries

A Menlo Park family escaped injury when an auto operated by an alleged drunken driver crashed into the side of their home Saturday morning.

Members of the Arthur Rose family, 860 Hamilton Ave., were at the other end of the building when an auto operated by Roosevelt Muskelly Jr., 26, of San Jose, crashed into the west wall at 10:31 a.m., police said.

Officers said that Muskelly flunked a roadside sobriety test.

FIRE IN WOODSIDE

A grass fire Monday destroyed half of a frame refreshment hut at the Play Pen, 3325 Woodside Road, Woodside. The alarm came in at 1:08 p.m.

Firemen said cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Mielke Named Vice-President

The appointment of Frederick W. Mielke, Jr., of Menlo Park, as assistant to the president of Pacific Gas & Electric Company, was announced this week by Robert H. Gerdes, the company's president.

Mielke has been an attorney in the PG&E law department since 1951. He was educated in the San Francisco public schools and was graduated from the University of California in 1943. He then entered Navy training duty at Harvard Business School, from which he was graduated in 1944, and served two years as a supply and disbursing officer, taking part in the Leyte and Okinawa campaigns.

After his release from Navy service Mielke entered Stanford Law School, receiving his degree in 1949. In entering the practice of law he followed his father, also a San Francisco attorney. He was law clerk to Associate Justice John W. Shenk of the California Supreme Court until he joined PG&E.

Mielke is an active member of the San Francisco Bar Association, being currently a director, and is a past chairman of the Association's public relations and corporate law department committees.

Mielke and his wife, the former Lorraine Roberts, reside at 945 Peninsula Way. They have two sons, Bruce, ten, and Neal, six.

As We See It:

Somebody Already Has Got Your Number

Well, the postoffice department has announced "zip code" numbers for all parts of the country. Downtown Menlo Park is in area 94027.

The assigning of numbers to various areas of the country has of course been greeted with the usual comments of people who are concerned that the labels and names we used to know are going to be forgotten — or at least used less frequently — and that we are all headed for a sort of numbered Gehenna in which we are identified, located and contacted on a strictly numeral basis.

One can speculate at length on this but the fact is, "numberitis" has been creeping up on us for years. As a matter of fact, if you want to place an ad in the classified section of the Recorder, you have but to contact extension 12, 326-5580. This is in the telephone company's code area of 415 if you're dialling long distance, and in the aforementioned 94027 postal area, if you want to contact us by mail.

Application for classification of the Recorder as a newspaper of general circulation was numbered 13500 back in 1927, in the Superior Court of San Mateo county. The judge signed the application so that might well be included in our title.

Maybe you could, therefore, get some letters to us with an address reading something like:

Newspaper,
Court Decree 13500 — '27 S. M. Co.
640 Roble Ave.

Our desks aren't numbered yet, but there aren't many of them so with a small amount of time and little additional memory work, you might assign desk numbers for the employees. The boss could have "desk 1" and you could use that as a prefix to the word "newspaper" address given above, if you want to reach him.

Actually, we're friendly folks who'd rather not have it done that way, and we like to talk to people on a name-to-name basis. We don't plan to take the label off the front page and substitute a pallid court order number or a pattern of punch-card dots. We customarily address each other by name, rather than social security number, and plan to continue to do so.

As a matter of fact, though, everybody who owns one could be addressed by social security number, and be as positively identified as he is by given name. And babies, nowadays, are commonly assigned a number at birth, to avoid confusion. If we all trained our memories properly, we could expect to hear such comments around the house as, "94321-A didn't eat his dinner," or, "I see that 547-26-5770 has a new car," or "Let's go to 95667 on our vacation."

We doubt that this situation will grow into reality as a practical matter. But the machinery is already with us and, in the long run, it speeds communication between people.

And that, we guess, is what we're all going to remain, essentially: People.

School Tax Regulation Needs Overhauling

Those who have been following the long-continuing account of the Menlo Park School District's effort to get higher permissive tax rate maximum are probably a little bored with it all, by this time. We certainly are.

But bored or not, there are those who will contend that the several elections which the school district had to conduct are "a feature of the democratic process" and that "it is often necessary to remind members of the school board that they're responsible to the voters."

These sentiments are poorly advised.

Multiple elections for the same tax measure constitute a mockery of the democratic process, not a reaffirmation of it. They appear particularly wrong-headed in their motivation when the need for them is based primarily on an outdated state-set permissive tax rate maximum of 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation — a rate which was good enough during the depression, but which has no basis in present-day school financing, other than to force school boards to have to do something which no other public agency ever has to do.

Critics of schools who vote against tax increases have been heard to complain, "Why does the school board waste all that money on elections, when the election doesn't pass?" They're right to ask this question; the money, indeed, could be better spent for education. But these same people should recognize that they really shouldn't be called to the polling places to vote on operating budget matters anyhow; imagine, if you can, the chaos which would ensue if the voters were called on to pass on every city, fire district, sanitary district, hospital district, or other special district budget.

It is regrettable, but it does not appear that the state legislature has any intention of raising, or doing away with, the 90 cent permissive tax rate maximum. Reason probably is that maintaining this limit gives the state a measure of control over every school district in the commonwealth.

There also are recurrent cries for "more state financing" for the schools. More state financing will mean more state control. If critics of school boards think their locally-elected people have a tendency to act arrogantly and without proper attention to the wishes of the voters, they might well consider what this would mean.

Finally, even if every school district in the state had unlimited power to tax, with no ceiling at all, they'd still be regulated by their voters. The trustees can always be unseated at the next election.

Affairs of State:

Session Sets Records

By ASSEMBLYMAN CARL A. BRITSCHGI
26th District, California State Legislature

Legisatlively, 1963 has already made history in the regular session. The special session, current as I write this, also promises to add some fresh lines to our California governmental chronicle. At least one new "first" has been added to the record book so far ,and others are in prospect.

The tax program submitted by the Governor on the opening day of the special session was substantially the same as that he proposed in January . The effective date of withholding of personal taxes was shifted ahead to January 1, 1965, and forgiveness of half the taxes due for calendar 1964 was proposed.

The speed-up plan for bank and corporation taxes was considerably stiffened, as compared to the earlier version.

Full 1963 taxes would be due March 15, 1964, and advance payment of future year taxes would be required on a step-up basis, until 50 per cent in advance would be payable in 1967.

The spending proposals which followed these revenue requests called for an increase of $114 million in the $3.14 billion budget for 1963-64 passed in the regular session, and signed into law.

If approved, this increase would raise the total for the year by more than $8.5 million over the amount asked last January.

Not only would the cuts made by the Legislature, and those made by the Governor be restored, but an additional $30 million would be included, mostly for state pay raises.

In an unprecedented move, the new "first" I referred to above, the Senate went into a closed huddle the third day of our session to determine whether any agreement could be reached on the administration program.

Meanwhile, the Assembly reviewed the school support legislation, but postponed any definitive action until the fate of the revenue measure is decided.

A wide range of bills relating to the school problem have been introduced.

The administration proposal calls for an additional $40 million in support funds for this year, and for a further increase of $20 million in following years. Also made part of the package would be a county-wide equalization tax estimated to produce $27.5 million more per year.

Another measure would give the school districts only the $40 million for this year, and would make no provision for succeeding periods.

Re-introduced was the bills to raise the cigarette tax two cents per pack, and to earmark the revenue for school funds.

The significance of the Senate's closed session, of course, lies in the fact that a two-thirds vote will be required to increase the budget, and the Democratic party will not have the necessary votes without Republican aid. The bank and corporation tax bill was lost in the regular session because it did not receive this proportion of total votes.

The administration feels that its present measure needs only a simple majority vote for legal passage, but there is argument about that, and the possibility of a court test has been test has been raised, if the bill is passed only by a majority.

From what indications can now be gathered about Senate discussions, it would appear that the withholding tax bill has slight chance at this session. The bank and corporation tax measure also faces difficulty in its present form. The $40 million additionals for schools for this year only seems to be favored, but the county-wide property tax feature also has a tough future ahead of it.

Only one thing is really certain as I write this . The special session is bound to go into a second week, but its results are now unknown.

Municipal Report:

Planners View Policies

It looks as though there'll be a sort of "row house" development on property which used to be a part of the Roger Reynolds Nursery, between the railroad tracks, El Camino Real, the present nursery, and Buckthorn Ave.

Nobody invisaged this until the plans were put before the San Mateo county planning commission; the city of Menlo Park apparently was caught in an unprepared position.

The city council has and will probably continue to protest against the proposed development until all possible appeals have been exhausted. But the truth is that the area is one under county jurisdiction and county zoning ordinances allow such a development.

Naturally, the developer can be counted on to make the maximum allowed use of a given parcel.

City Planner Robert Ironside this week reviewed a few of the philosophocal considerations involved. And he also discussed possible future problems which could arise if county zoning is applied to other county areas adjacent to Menlo Park.

One of the considerations which renders the Menlo Park city council protest to the "row house" development is the fact that it's an individual thing, aimed at regulating a particular, single, piece of property.

This gives the appearance of being hind-sighted and also discriminatory against an individual builder, who has agreed on a price for the land and who presumably has a considerable investment in it to date.

It would have been far better, Ironside said he believes, if the city had given consideration to what adjacent county zoning meant in certain areas, and talked county planners into making some sort of adjustment.

With no such talks, the county planners have to assume things on a county-wide basis: That is, what would be appropriate in areas adjacent to Pacifica, Daly City, Half Moon Bay and in Pescadero or San Gregorio, are appropriate in an unincorporated area next to Menlo Park, too.

Ironside said that talks with members of the county planning staff indicate they themselves separate "urban" planning from "county" planning—in their minds.

But in the absence of the discussions with the several city planning groups in the county and in view of the fact that the county planning commission holds sway over all unincorporated area, nothing has been done.

Could some similar problem turn up in another county area adjacent to Menlo Park? Would it be possible for somebody, say, to erect a "high rise" apartment near Menlo Park's borders near the Alameda de las Pulgas or construct a set of houses on inappropriately small lots across the street from large, expensive Menlo Park residential developments?

Probably not, Ironside said he feels.

In the case of the area near the Alameda, it's mostly developed as residential property. The county allows smaller minimum lot sizes than the city (5000 square feet as compared to 7000 square feet) but most of the lots are developed.

This means, of course, that anybody trying to develop something out of keeping with the area would be faced with complaints not only from Menlo Park but from county area residents as well. And the county planners pay attention to their constituents in the same manner that Menlo Park planners pay attention to their constituents.

There are a couple of unincorporated "islands" in western Menlo Park and near San Francisquito Creek. They're developed as residential property, too. But here, the lots are zoned for a 10,000 square foot minimum and are in keeping with the adjacent city zoning standards.

Farther east, in the area around Menalto Avenue and West O'Connor Street, there may be more conflicts, Ironside said he believes.

On one side of the street, a resident of the county can develop more rental units on a lot than his neighbor in the city, because the city requires a greater amount of land for each apartments and has stringent offstreet parking requirements.

At the same time, the city property owner pays higher taxes.

It is argued that the owner of city property is participating in the support of more municipal services than his neighbor across the street. But can it seriously be argued that the width of a street can keep one child from using municipal park facilities, recreation programs, the library, the swimming pool and other "city" advantages, while his playmate does use them?

These are just some of the considerations facing planners on the city and county level. Staff members can agree on certain things, but matters of basic policy must be left in the hands of the appointed board members who, after all, have the last say.

There will be much discussion before all of the little details of how to zone county areas near cities, and city areas near unincorporated territories, are worked out.

Airman Noelke Is Reassigned

LACKLAND AFB, Texas (Special) — Airman John P. Noelke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Noelke of 937 Canada Road, Woodside, is being reassigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., for technical training as a United States Air Force aircraft mechanical equipment repairman.

Airman Noelke, who enlisted in the Air Force a short time ago, has completed his initial basic military training here.

Trees Burned In Atherton

Some children got some matches and started experimenting with them last Thursday afternoon, with the result that firemen had to spend two hours and 45 minutes extinguishing tree fires along Prado Secoya in Atherton.

The youngsters weren't caught, firemen said.

The fire was reported at 4:02 p.m.

OVERHEATED BRAKES

Overheated brakes on an auto at 690 Coleman Ave. Friday at 1:30 a.m. started to smoulder resulting in a call to firemen.

25 Years Ago:

Earhart Death Was Noted

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community.

July 22, 1938:

A year ago this week a world waited eagerly while 10 ships and 102 navy bombers scouted the waters of the south Pacific anxiously searching for a trace of Amelia Earhart and her co-pilot, Fred Noonan.

But no good word came. On July 18 the spectacular, far-flung search was called off sixteen days after the faltering anxious voice of Miss Earhart had sent out her last, terse message:

"KHAQQ calling Itasca. We are in line of position 157-337. Will repeat this message 6210 kilocycles. We are running north and south."

There the story of this audacious, tousle-headed aviatrix ends. Virtually within her grasp was the successful completion of the most difficult flight of her career—the 2556 mile hop from Lae, New Guinea to tiny Howland Island.

How she missed this island in the sunlit July morning, why she failed to acknowledge messages from the coast guard cutter Itasca or see its billowing smoke signals, or how close she came to Howland, will probably never be known. The ocean guards its secrets well!

SCHOOL BOUNDARIES

To the Editor:

The Ravenswood High School-Menlo-Atherton boundary change has produced some real tragedy. There are winners and losers in this drama. Young people are being denied the chance to attend a truly fine school.. This is the tragedy.

Opportunities for developing leadership ability are much greater at the smaller school. Everyone has a chance at Ravenswood. Sports cars and cashmere sweater are nice but unimportant.

Parents who have allowed fear to control their actions are denying their children Ravenswood's close personal relationship between faculty and students.

The accreditation committee told the faculty that its members had "never seen so much admiration from students for their teachers as at Ravenswood." (Ravenswood Post, May 16, 1963.

Some of the finest teachers in the Sequoia High School District gave up the security of their comfortable pobs to pioneer at this unusual school.

Hysterical parents are preventing their children's association with one of the most courteous and friendly student bodies to be found anywhere; courteous to faculty members! coutreous and friendly to each other; courteous to visitors, and to visting teams at games.

Two years ago relations between Woodside High School and Ravenswood were at an all-time low. Today they are at an all-time high.

Other schools on the peninsula send representatives to Ravenswood saying, "We are having trouble with such-and-such school. Tell us what you did that improved your relations with Woodside."

My niece lived with us a year and a half ago while recovering from an illness. One of her most difficult problems was an extreme shyness. We worried about her entering a strange high school where she only knew one person.

Imagine our feelings when she blossomed out more than she ever had, and said, over and over again, "Ravenswood is the friendliest school I have ever been in!"

At many high schools the practice seems to be, as one student expressed it, "We know eac hother but we don't speak."

Another tragic irony about shifting children in order to avoid going to Ravenswood High School is that these students may be forced, then, to attend other high schools where members of their own student bodies estimate that as high as 90 per cent of the students regularly get "beered up" at parties and dances.

'BUREAUCRACY'

Editor of the Menlo Park Recorder:

It truly pinches that you won't let me natter in your Forum any more. But I unreservedly concede your right to select your natterers by whatever yardstick you may choose. I only hope some liberal or other doesn't petition the Supereme Court to spike such undeniable discrimination on your part.

Believe me or not, I hope that never happens. I like our relationship better this way: I feel better for not having to write this letter. You feel better for not having to read my letter, much less print it. And your readers undoubtedly feel better for not having to THINK.

Well, be that as it may, let me tell you what happened yesterday to my 13-year-old son at the Menlo Park Library. I think this incident affords a lesson for all of us.

It seemed so simple. All my son did was return some books to the library for his younger brothers and sisters, although the books weren't actually due back for several days yet. Imagine his surprise and fluster when the librarian charged him 70 cents, penalty for having two IBM book cards missing from two books. When I asked my boy why he paid the 70 cents out of his own pocket, practically all he had, he answered that he didn't want to "gyp" the library; besides, Mom would pay him back.

Somewhat nettled by her seeming-to-me highhandedness, I called upon the librarian. In answer to my face-to-face questions, all sweetness and light she politely negated my question if the cards could be returned since the books weren't due yet: "Our system will be thrown all out of kilter because we will already have new cards made by the time you get back the others. Letting you do that would complicate everything" (I as quoting the sense of what she told me rather than her exact words).

I raise the question: Why couldn't this librarian have told my boy: "Look, young man! These two books are missing their cards. But they're not due for several days yet. Take them home, find the cards if you can, and then bring them back." Is that expecting too much of a PUBLIC librarian? I left that librarian feeling somewhat victimized!

Doesn't this incident demonstrate to you how a bureaucracy's rules and regulations roll irresistibly and unfeelingly over the very PEOPLE such rules and regulations are intended to serve and protect; how those rules and regulations can be changed or modified at the whim and fancy, as well as discretion, of the bureaucrats, without notice or necessarily in the best interests of the public; but how those rules and regulations will most always be inflicted on a plausible, apparently justifiable, even laudable basis or pretext, like reducing operating costs, or even giving better service?

Sincerely,
Alan E. Green

Optometrists See Danger In Eclipse

Next Saturday, July 20, a partial eclipse of the sun will be visible to most of North America. In San Mateo County it will last from 12:36 p.m. to 2:56 p.m., maximum at 1:47 p.m.

There is real danger of serious eye damage in viewing a solar eclipse, warns Dr. Gordon W. Taylor of Menlo Park, speaking for the Department of Public Information of the San Mateo County Optometric Society.

On April 8, 1959, 170 Australians—principally school children—suffered permanent retinal damage and partial loss of central vision in watching an eclipse of the sun without adequate protection.

Makeshift measures include dark photographic negatives, glass that has been smoked over a candle, or a card with a pinhole opening. None of these devices is completely safe. Looking directly into the sun, even for a few seconds, involves the possibility of permanent retinal damage, Dr. Taylor said. "Sunglasses are no answer to the problem. A piece of photo film, over-exposed on its entire surface and developed, provides better protection," he adds.

A solar eclipse has a deservedly popular appeal according to Dr. Taylor. He emphasizes that it should be an opportunity for us to extend our knowledge of the universe, but not an occasion for risking damage to our vision.

Pvt. Freeland Takes Course

FORT SILL, Okla. (Special) —Army Private Terry L. Freeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Freeland, 408 Grayson Court, Menlo Park, is scheduled to complete advanced artillery training as a cannoneer at The Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., Aug. 10.

Freeland entered the Army in March, 1963, and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Area Students Get Scholarships

Two area students were among 757 undergraduates and entering students at the University of California at Berkeley to receive 1963-64 scholarships from the university.

They are Mary L. Nunn, 770 Lemon St., who was named recipient of a Lois T. Howison Loan scholarship and Sheila Walsh, 53 McCormick Lane in Atherton, named recipient of a Milton Phillips scholarship.

40th YEAR—No. 29 THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1963 SECOND SECTION

TALLY-HO . . .

. . . set for August 17 is the Woodside-Atherton Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home's annual end-of-summer benefit planned for the children whom they serve all year through volunteer work at the home and also through the management of the Allied Arts Guild and operation of the Traditional Shop there. Above and at left are pictured Mrs. William Racine, auxiliary member, wearing a traditional English barmaid's costume and Eddie Nugent, dapper in his royal coachman's coat. They announced the English inspired theme of the party at last week's luncheon preview. At center Holly Catchings is astride Errand Boy who is an entry in the honor horse show to be given both in the daytime and in the evening. At left, Mrs. Arthur A. Hislop and Mrs. J. Leonard Scott examine a horse show program which, in itself, is one of the larger money raisers created by the auxiliary who works for months each to make Tally-Ho an event which is much anticipated on the Mid-Peninsula.

Seminary Benefit:

Holy Rosary Names Regent

Miss Stella Haensgen has been installed as Grand Regent of the Catholic Daughters of America No. 1499 of Menlo Park Court of the Holy Rosary.

Other new officers are Mrs. Melvin B. Gross, vice regent; Mrs. Charles Vanoli, prophetess; Mrs. William Klein, historian; Mrs. John McCarty, lecturer; Mrs. Frances Maloney, treasurer; Mrs. A. E. Gross, financial secretary and Mrs. Caroline Maher, sentinel.

Trustees are Miss Mary Raminger, Mrs. Thomas Aaron, Mrs. Fred Ferrarini, Mrs. John Heaphy, Mrs. Fred Brayton and Mrs. Mary Fisher. Chaplain is Reverend Arthur C. Davenport of the Church of the Nativity.

Membership in the Catholic Daughters of America is open to all Catholic women from the age of 18. The court meets on the second Wednesday of each month at the Menlo Park Civic Center.

Catholic Daughters of America, organized 60 years ago by the Knights of Columbus, are now established in all the states of the United States, in Panama, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

Among their projects is the sponsoring of religious programs, confraternity of Christian dostrine, fostering vocations, promotion of retreats, aid to home and foreign missions and establishing scholarships. Other current efforts are a home the daughters are planning for retired members, apostulate of the aged and student education funds.

Information is available from Mrs. Melvin R. (Margaret Gross) 101 Alma St., Palo Alto, DA 5-5972, or from Miss Stella Haensgen, 440 Ravenswood Ave., Menlo Park, 322-8895.

"A Musical Parade of Stars and Tea" is a first of its kind event planned by the Catholic Daughters to be held Saturday, Aug. 24, at St. Patrick's Seminary, 360 Middlefield Road, Menlo Park.

The affair, to be held on the seminary grounds, is being sponsored to raise funds for the student education fund. Tickets are available for this event now and can be obtained from ticket chairmen, Miss Carmelita O'Neil, 1 Winchester Drive, Atherton, DA 3-4982; Miss Raminger, 1080 El Camino Real, Menlo Park and Miss Haengsen.

List of the stars to be featured for the "Parade" will be announced a few weeks hence.

Karen Root Betrothed

Karen Ann Root is the bride-elect of Donald E. Woodford of Menlo Park according to an announcement made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Eugene Root of Atherton.

The young couple plan a June wedding after Don's graduation from Menlo School of Business Administration. The future bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Woodford of Menlo Park. He has a sister, Mrs. Gary Larsen (Carol Woodford) of Redwood City.

KAREN ROOT

Karen is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and plans to attend business college during the forthcoming year. She has two brothers, Kirby, who having completed service in the Marine Corps, will return to college this fall, and Brian who attends Hillview School in Menlo Park.

The young coupie plan to make their home in the Palo Alto area.

August 17:

Woodside-Atherton Junior Auxiliary Plans Horseshow and Hunt Party

Previewing the Aug. 17 Tally-Ho Horseshow and Hunt Paryt at the Menlo Circus Club, the Atherton home of the James C. Jays was last Thursday transformed to a setting reminiscent of Camelot, mid-Victorian days and the glamorous era of Edward VII.

Guests were greeted by a sentry box styled after those used in front of Buckingham Palace for the changing of the guard and by flags, crests and brasses of English heraldry. The luncheon, as planned by members of the Woodside-Atherton Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home, was served by members in authentic English barmaid costumes and one colorful guest was Edward Nugent of American Airlines, resplendent in his Royal Coachman's costume.

For their annual day-long benefit for the Stanford Convalescent Home, Woodside-Atherton Junior Auxiliary members have spent many months of painstaking research and work to create an authentic English scene against which the gala events will be played. The pink coats of the horsemen, the heraldic banners, medieval shields, the reconstructed English village and Manor House will make this Tally-Ho colorful and exciting.

The big day will begin with the Horseshow, which has been designated an honor show for the third consecutive year. Mrs. John Beckett, horseshow chairman, reveals that there will be more than 200 entrants competing.

Many youngsters will participate in events starting at 8:30 a.m. and in the afternoon at 1:30. Climax of the one-day affair is the formal evening show at 8 p.m. when riders compete in nine stake events. For many, the horseshow is the highlight of the season as attested by throngs who attend year after year. Among these are the Robert Stantons and the William Jasons, who have shared a sponsor box for many years and Mrs. William P. McDowell, who has had the same box for 13 years.

The party gates will be opened by Mrs. John Stephens, party chairman, at 5 p.m. Cocktails will be served and fall fashions by Joseph Magnin will be modeled by auxiliary members. After dinner ,there will be dancing in the "Manor House' 'and English games will be played in the "Village."

This year something new has been added to the party. In addition to the catered buffet booths, which will feature barbecued steak and lamb curry, there will be a limited number of sponsor tables where the dinners will be served.

Reservations for the sponsor tables may be made by contacting Mrs. Oscar Homes at 322-0106. Reservations have been made by Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Durkin, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Good, Mr. and Mrs. James Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Marron Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norcotts, Mr. and Mrs. William Orrs, Mr. and and Mrs. William E. Racines, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Zellerbach.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend Tally-Ho which directly benefits the children at the Stanford Convalescent Home. Daytime admission prices to the Horseshow are $1 for children and $2.50 for adults. For the evening horseshow, all tickets are $2.50 and the combined ticket for the party and evening show is $5. Tickets will be available at the gate.

Linda Miller Is Bride

Linda Kay Miller became the bride of Jack Warren Anderson June 14 at First Methodist Church in Palo Alto. The couple exchanged vows at the 2 o'clock ceremony read by Rev. Martin Stuart.

The theme of pink and white was carried through by the bride, her attendant, and decorations at the reception. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller carried white and pink baby roses. Her full length white lace gown was an Angelo creation fashioned with a train. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of the gown and the tiny crown which held her fingertip veil.

Pat Montalvo Bryant of Menlo Park, the bride's single attendant, wore a pale pink frock, featuring a full skirt and bolero styled top. She wore pink accessories and carried pink baby roses.

Bert Anderson's Newark home was the locale of the reception which followed the ceremony. It was decorated with silver and white wedding motif and the bride's cake was pink and silver.

The new Mrs. Anderson chose a white eyelet suit with pink accessories as her going-away outfit. The couple is honeymooning at Disneyland and will return to take up residence in Redwood City.

Linda's mother received the 50 guests in a navy faille suit with white accessories. Jack's sister, Leona Pachecho, wore an ice blue dress with white accessories for the wedding. Both wore orchid corsages. sages.

Linda is a graduate of Ravenswood High School and she attended College of San Mateo. She is employed by Pacific Telephone Company in Palo Alto.

The bridegroom, the son of Bert Anderson of Fairfield, is employed by San Mateo County. He was graduated from Atascadero High School. He is also the brother of Betty, Bill and Bob Anderson.

Six Months in Russia:

Travelers Show Books, References

Mrs. Paul Bryner of Menlo Park was one of eighteen guides to spend the first half of 1963 in Russia. She and her entourage were part of "technical Books U.S.A.", a U.S. Information Agency exhibit of some 7,000 representative American books and reference materials.

The group of eighteen arrived in the Soviet Union the first of this year to begin the exhibition which lasted 6½ months and traveled to three major Russian cities. It opened on January 23 at Moscow, then from March 14 to April 15 at Leningrad, and completed at Kiev May 10 to June 11.

Though Mrs. Bryner was certainly glad to be back home after such a long absence, she brought back with her three major impressions of the Soviet Union. She was greatly impressed by the interest the Russians showed concerning not only the exhibits, but also the American ways of life.

She also commented that they were an extremely friendly people.

But probably the most significant thing she learned from her stay was the importance of sending such exhibits behind the iron curtain. The people have an opportunity to learn about the United States, and Americans get to know firsthand about the Soviet Union.

Born in China of Russian parents, Mrs. Bryner calls the Russian language her first tongue. This was only one of the reasons she was qualified to serve as guide and interpreter at the exhibit. She has been employed at Stanford University for the past seven years, and has worked as area assistant of the East European collection at Hoover Institute for nearly four years.

The group of guides were not only able to visit the three large cities of the U.S.S.R. but also had opportunities to visit Novgorod, Vladimir, Suzdal, the Crimea and Caucasus, to name a few. They also visited museums, theaters, and several historical monuments.

The collection of books exhibit, which occupied some 8,000 square feet of space, was the fourth in a series of similar tours. A fifth, "Graphics U.S.A." is scehduled to be sent to the Societ Union this summer.

The Bryner family has lived at 1720 Oak Ave., for almost 17 years. Mr. Bryner is vice-president of West Coast Door Manufacturers in Mountain View. They have a daughter, Marina, a student at Stanford and a son, Alexander, who has just completed his freshman year at University of Colorado.

Couple Repeats Vows

Geraldine Bates Martin recently became the bride of Arnold Eric Soderberg of Oakland in a late afternoon ceremony conducted at the Menlo Park Presbtyerian Church.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Earl Martin of Menlo Park, Geraldine came down the church aisle, escorted by her father, wearing a gown of Italian silk linen fashioned with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and a full skirt that extended into a chapel train. Bands of embroidered lace trimmed the neckline and were repeated in the skirt inserts. A full veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and Geraldine's bridal bouquet was made up of white glamelias, white carnations and miniature ivy.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wilhelm Soderberg of Sebastopol, Arnold asked his brother, Carl William Soderberg, to be his best man. Arnold attended Berkeley High School and is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley.

Geraldine was attended by a matron of honor Mrs. Donald Brown (Mariana Linden) and two bridesmaids, Mrs. Daniel Varty and Cynthia Preston. Their gowns were heaven blue linen with moss green grosgrain ribbon trim. Headpieces were of matching ribbon and each attendant carried white marguerites with miniature ivy.

The Menlo Country Club was the setting for the reception given for Geraldine and Arnold. Mrs. Bates greeted the wedding guests in light blue dynasty silk to which she pinned a corsage of white tuberous begonias. Mrs. Soderberg wore royal blue silk and a white orchid. Before leaving for a honeymoon trip to Carmel, Geraldine changed to an ensemble in light blue with which she wore navy blue accessories.

Geraldine is a graduate of San Marino High School. She continued her education at the University of Vienna and graduated from the University of California at Berkeley. She is an affiliate of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Island Honeymoon:

Jack J. Gilderoy Weds Diane Steck at Nativity

Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Gilderoy II will be at home in Redwood City after a week's honeymoon trip in the Hawaiian Islands. Jack and the former Diane Loree Steck, were married July 13 at Church of the Nativity in Menlo Park.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl V. Steck of Palo Alto is an alumna of Ravenswood High School. She is employed at Menlo - Atherton High School.

Her husband was graduated from Menlo - Atherton High School and College of San Mateo. He works at United Air Lines.

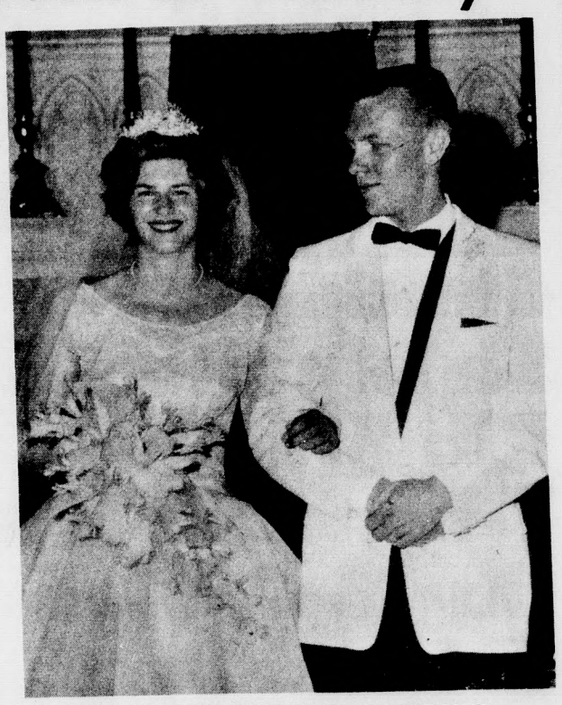

Escorted to the altar by her father, Diane wore a silk organza over taffeta gown with full skirt. Embroidered appliques of silk organza flowers trimmed the scoop neckline. Her fingertip veil flowed from a crown of wax orange blossoms and she carried stephanotis and orchids.

Bridesmaids Judith Goodnow, Anne Williams and Janet Vercellino preceded maid of honor Gertrude Albrecht down the aisle. They were attired in floor length gowns of pale aqua silk organza over taffeta. Ferns accented their bouquets of pale yellow Fuji chrysanthemums.

Jack asked Dorwin Douglas to stand as his best man, The 200 guests were seated by Mike Carder, Jay Parashis and Ronald Steck, brother of the bride.

Among special guests attending the 2 o'clock ceremony was the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Steck of Menlo Park, and Jack's grandmother, Mrs. Eleanor Gilderoy of Washington.

The home of Diane's other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Smith of Menlo Park, provided the setting for the reception which immediately followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered by a family heirloom, a tablecloth which belonged to Diane's great-great-grandmother.

In November:

California Writers Plan Mexico Tour

A group of California writers is planning a 12-day writers' tour to Mexico.

High spot of the tour will be a visit to San Miguel De Allende, the writers' colony featured in the 1963 Writer's Yearbook. Also included on the tour will be Morelia Lake Patzcuaro, a boat trip on the Lake to the isle of Janitizio, an over-night stay at the famous Mexican spa of San Jose Purua, several days in Mexico City ,a visit to the floating gardens of Xochimilco, a bull fight, luncheon in a private Mexican home, and other colorful events. The tour starts Nov. 9, and ends Nov. 20.

The cost of this fabulous tour is only $157.90, including all sightseeing with an English-speaking guide, first class hotel accommodations and meals except in Mexico City. For the total cost of the tour, add the price of the air fare round-trip from home town to Mexico City.

Any writers interested in joining this tour party may write Dorothy Eason, Tour Chairman, 41 Marvin Avenue, Los Altos, Calif., for further information.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO

BIG BOOST . . .
. . . to the California Youth Symphony, departing on their tour to Japan on Saturday, came this week from the Lucie Stern Foundation. Walter A. Haas, pictured above (at right), president of the foundation enriched the young musicians' travel fund by $2500 through foundation funds established in memory of Mrs. Haas' aunt, Lucie Stern. Pictured with the Atherton couple is Terry Tanner who will be aboard the Pan American flight along with a large number of young local musicians.

Cabana Ceremony:

Lynda Weinstein Becomes Bride

Now touring the United States after spending two weeks in Hawaii are the recently married Allan Ray Chasnoffs (she is the former Lynda Weinstein) who exchanged their nuptial vows in a Cabana Hotel ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Weinstein of Atherton. Dr. and Mrs. John Chasnoffs of New Haven, Conn., are Allan's parents.

The newlyweds were guests of honor at a wedding supper, also given at the Cabana, during which 250 guests offered their best wishes.

Lynda wore a floor-length white organza peau de soie gown with appliqued Alencon lace on the bodice and chapel length train. A butterfly veil of silk illusion flowed from a pillbox headpiece adorned with a silk rose. Orchids and stephanotis composed the brial bouquet.

Bridal attendants and the mothers of the bride and bridegroom wore floor-length gowns for the formal occasion.

Richard Berkowitz served as best man for Allan. His ushers were Jay Gaines, Joseph Meters and Dr. Daniel Fischer.

Mrs. Weinstein chose a floor length coral silk gown and Mrs. Chasnoffs was in yellow brocade.

The bridegroom will continue his studies at Stanford University Medical School and the bride will also attend college at Foothill College where she is majoring in education.

Allan was graduated from Hopkins Grammar School in New Haven and Yale University. His bride attended Castilleja School and is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School.

Charm CHIT CHAT

Flawless beauty is not so much a matter of heritage as it is of unrelenting effort. This doesn't mean spending hours before a mirror, with a fortune in cosmetics at hand. "Beauty is as beauty does" is precious wisdom. But it does mean wise use of whatever time and means we do have. It means spending a few minutes on skin and hair each day, rather than in a splurge one day, followed by weeks of neglect. It means foregoing the purchase of a fabulously-expensive item which would mean having no needed creams and lotions for a month. It means buying rouge, lipstick and nail polish keyed to our wardrobe, instead of grabbing something of momentary appeal. Beauty is not haphazard.

SECURITY CAN BE YOURS . . . if you act now. There will always be a demand for beauty in this world, so learn how to make women lovely. Make an appointment for a confidential interview.

A BEAUTY CAREER can be YOURS in nine months. Jobs waiting. No limit to earnings. High School diploma not required. Special discount for full-time attendance.

Hawley-Williams Nuptials

Wallace Randall Hawley, the son of Mrs. Stuart Hawley Jr. of Atherton and the late Mr. Hawley, claimed Alexandra Williams as his bride in recent nuptials at Christ Episcopal Church in Ridgewood, N. J.

A reception followed at the Woman's Club in Ridgewood. Alexandra, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Williams of Englewood, N. J., just completed her sophomore year at Wellesley College. She plans to continue her education at Stanford University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Stanford and Harvard School of Business Administration. He is employed with McKinsey and Company, management consultants.

Wallace's grandparents are Judge and Mrs. L. R. Weinmann and Mrs. Stuart Hawley, Sr., all of Piedmont. He is the nephew of the Teller Weinmanns of Atherton.

Alexandra was escorted to the altar by her father. She chose a white peau de soie gown featuring an Alencon lace bodice embroidered with seed pearls for her wedding. Alencon lace also adorned the full length bouffant skirt and extended into the chapel length train. Her bouquet was of a crescent shape made up of phaleonopsis, stephanotis, and sweetheart roses. A tiara held her white tulle veil.

Her attendants were dressed in pink organza frocks with bell shaped skirts and matching pink veils. Pink Rubrum lilies and sweetheart roses were their flowers.

Wendy Meyer of Wellesley, Mass., and Edith Myers of Englewood preceded the maid of honor, Patricia Hornberger of Bank, N.J., and matron of honor, Mrs. Edward Borcherdt Jr. of Los Angeles, down the aisle. Mrs. Borcherdt is the bridegroom's sister.

Wallace's brothers, Stephen Hart Hawley and Stuart Hyde Hawley, filled the roles of best man and usher.

James Allen of New York, Ian Arnof of Alabama, Don Smith and Frederick Thys also seated wedding guests.

Menlo Park will be the newlyweds home, when they return from their European wedding trip.

Par Avance Lunches at PAH Club

Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club was the setting for the first summer luncheon and party for Par Avance Club members and their out of town house guests.

The Hawaiian menu was appropriate since Par Avance members are frequent visitors to the Islands.

Mrs. Don Warner, president, greeted the guests. Among those present were Mrs. Kenneth Elder and her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Kramer who is visiting from Greenwich, Conn.; Mrs. Fred Yaeger and her guest, Mrs. T. C. Reynolds of Cleveland, and Mrs. G. Weinkauf. Mrs. A. L. Stolp and Mrs. R. Severin of Atherton; Mrs. C. Didre Mervy, Mrs. H. M. Scales, Mrs. Charles Lachele of Menlo Park; Mrs. Peter Lubchenko of Palo Alto, Mrs. Robert Sheldon and Mrs. C. E. Gilroy of Belmont and Mrs. Edward Jenanyan.

Summer Pace Slows:

Camping Goal: The High Sierra

FAMILY CONFERENCES . . . at the Roy W. Seagraves currently cover but one subject—their plan to pack in to a mountain lake area which involves leaving their car at Edison Dam and proceeding by boat and horseback. Gordon, Audrey, Roy and Dorna Seagraves (from left to right) have been making lists ever since last summer and will soon be on their way to fish for golden trout. —Staff photo

Shifting gears between the September to June rush to the comparative calm of the summer months is a maneuver which takes the ledgerdemain found only in professional magicians and Mid - Peninsula wives and mothers.

Such sleight of hand is available to Mrs. Roy W. Seagraves who functions in the usual diverse roles of a housewife. Present casting finds her the wife of a municipal court judge, the mother of Dorna, 13, and Gordon, 11, and the master hand behind such effective projects as the Book Fair which has become an annual supporting arm for the Menlo Park Public Library.

Summer pace at the Seagraves household includes a good deal of activity — patio entertaining, riding for the children and swimmers gathered around the pool. But somehow there is also leisure for Gordon and a group of friends to gather round a table for the painstaking pleasure of assembling a model, a leisurely visit with friends in the secluded patio and pleasant hours spent dining in the patio and then relaxing around the firepit on which it centers.

CONVERT

The central family interest right now is preparation for an eight-day pack trip into the High Sierras. Audrey Seagraves, who describes herself as having grown up in the tea-dancing circuit, learned about camping after she was married. She loves it. Just to watch the sunsets, she says, is worth the trip and this delight is only one of many. The Seagraves and the M. R. Regalados will take the trip together this year, eight of them, and will pack in with supplies enough to last the eight-day stay ending up near Huntington Lake.

After a number of years of such trips, Mrs. Seagraves has given serious thought to writing a cook book for campers. She disclaims being an expert, but she has learned a few tricks. Last year, for instance, she found that rice-a-roni explodes when cooked at such an elevation, adding that exploded rice is delicious. She has found that canned chicken is a delight to have in the supply boxes. Her method is to remove the meat from the bones, add noodles, parmesan cheese, a little ham if available, or wine or whatever.

This was such a success that she tried it again when the family returned home and found it quite popular even without the enhancing flavor building of outdoor living.

Her adaptability to such trips is perhaps best synthesized in her rather casual comment that she and Sylvia Regalado were were lost for 12 hours last year in the vicinity of the Sally Keyes lakes.

BOOK FAIR

Mrs. Seagraves has been chairman of the book fair given for the library under the auspices of Friends of the Library for four years. This year she stepped down as the head of the gathering, sorting and subsequent sale of the second hand books that are so eagerly snapped up, but intends to continue her work on the project next year. She has, of course, come across many an interesting volume during the sorting and pricing end of the fair.

This year she found a little book, dating back many years, in which it appeared a spinster had pasted bon mots and poems which particularly appealed to her. And within the pages, there was a copy of the Santa Clara Journal, dated July 4, 1865. She took the yellowed pages to the present management of the paper who seized it with delighted hands to reproduce a page for their 1963 Independence Day issue.

She has also been able, through contributions to the fair, to turn a large number of Sunset Magazines from earlier years back to the local publishers.

Back from her camping trip, which will stretch into August, Mrs. Seagraves will take up duties as the chairman of the Board of Christian Education of the Woodside Village Church.

Small Talk

Stanford Golf Club Tourney, PAH Twilighter are Announced

By PROXY

Stanford Golf Club will hold its annual invitational golf tournament this weekend and on July 20 and July 21. A high point of this weekend's activities will be the annual dinner dance given by the club which will be presented at the Los Altos Country Club. Everett Dahl is president of the Stanford Golf Club this year, John MacKenzie is chairman for the dance and John Bayless has arranged the details for the tournament to which members invite guests to make up foursomes.

• • • •

Atherlons are planning on going Hawaiian this month according to the invitations which have been sent to members of the club. The Mr. and Mrs. Swim Group is planning a luau on Sunday, July 21, from 2 p.m. until 7 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Christensen in Atherton.

The setting will be a very realistic one with tropical flowers being flown in from Hawaii for each woman guest. Mrs. Robert Sarto has made arrangements for the party with the help of Mrs. Robert Elliott, Mrs. William Sharron and Mrs. Forrest Riordan. Hawaiian music will accompany the guests while they swim, enjoy hot hors d'oeuvres and dine on charcoal broiled steaks and scooped out watermelons filled with fresh fruit. Assisting at the barbecue pit will be Bob Sarto, Lee Boucher and William Sharron.

• • • •

Mrs. E. Bea Addison and daughter Judy of Menlo Park are on a cruise which will involve stops in Bora Bora, Papeete, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Suva, Niuafo'ou, Pago Pago and Honolulu. Mrs. Addison is library assistant at Stanford University.

• • • •

Susan Darlene Rovere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Rovere of Menlo Park, will be in the freshman class at Marymount College in Palos Verde Estates, California. A graduate of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Menlo Park, Susan will report for classes on the cliffside campus of the women's college on Sept. 12.

• • • •

Palo Alto Unit of Pro America will on July 25 hold a tea honoring their national president, Mrs. Albert Goode, and state president Mrs. A. W. Barly. The tea will be held at the Atherton home of Mrs. Longueville Price under the direction of tea chairmen, Mrs. Henry Woolff and Mrs. George English. Mrs. William Mudgett is president of the local Pro America chapter.

• • • •

Mrs. Edward G. Russell of Woodside returned recently from a two-month motor trip throughout the United States, during which she visited the new privately-financed city being built for the Navajos in northwestern New Mexico.

She said she was also extremely impressed by the wire-type sculpture of "Flight" in the main lobby of the new Pan-Am building in New York City.

Her son, Geoffrey, accompanied her on the return trip following his graduation from prep school in Pennsylvania.

• • • •

Returned to England this week after an eight-week stay with a sister he hasn't seen for 38 years is Jesse Bray of Swindon, who has been staying with his sister, Mrs. William T. Casey of Menlo Park.

• • • •

Peter Slade, son of Mr .and Mrs. Arthur Slade of Menlo Park departed Monday for a 10-day tour of Hawaii.

• • • •

Tightly packed calendars are the rule for debutantes—and the Peninsula Debs who will make their bows in December—are no exception. An August 3 date has been chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Litfin for a swimming party and dinner dance given in honor of their daughter, Maria.

Starting the fall party series will be the Sept. 1 luncheon Mrs. R. B. Daugherty will give for her daughter, Pat. On Sept. 6, Mrs. W. Foster Stewart of Portland, Ore., will honor Susan Fenn at a tea at the Francisca Club. Mrs. Bethune Ireland has chosen Nov. 30 for the tea she will give for her daughter, also at the Francisca Club.

• • • •

Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club will hold its first nine-hole couples' twilight golf tournament for this summer at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon. It will be followed by a cocktail party, barbecued steak dinner and dancing. The party is open to guests with couples splitting up and drawing for partners. Social members are welcome to play, too, or may join golfers for cocktails and dinner later. Chairmen of the event are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gallagher.

• • • •

Zarina and Virginia Stapleton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stapleton of 2 Bassett Lane, Atherton, are currently in Mexico's leading art center, San Miguel de Allende, Guanajuato. The village is, also, a national monument.

Both girls are studying art, Spanish, history and Survey of Mexico. They visited Mexico City before enrolling i nthe Institute Allende. All courses are taught in English with the exception of the Spanish language classes. The institute is affiliated with the University of Guanajuato and has students enrolled from Europe, Latin America, Hawaii, Canada and from all over the United States.

They plan on going to Acapulco before returning to Atherton.

Alums Plan Luau

Mid-Peninsula Gamma Phi Beta sorority alumnae and their husbands will celebrate the warm weather with a swimming party and luau July 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lemman, 274 Catalpa Drive, Atherton.

Cocktails will be served at 5:30 p.m. and the couples will dine on a variety of Polynesian food. Torches will light the swimming and dining area and guests are asked to wear Hawaiian costume.

Reservations are limited and can be made by contacting Mrs. S. K. Van Stone, 96 Mt. Vernon Lane, Atherton. Her phone number is 325-6824.

FROM KENTUCKY

Recently moved from Kentucky are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Milliken. They are now residing in Menlo Park. Milliken is employed by Stanford Research Institute.

Stanford Grads Engaged

Traditional passing of candy was performed by Ellen Marie Buckwalter when she revealed her engagement to Durand House classmates on the Stanford campus during finals week.

Ellen and her fiance, Jon Channing Calvert, also a Stanford graduate, plan a June wedding. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassel Buckwalter of Menlo Park, and Jon's parents are the Floyd R. Calverts of Sonora.

The future Mrs. Calvert is a graduate of University High School in Los Angeles. She has been touring Europe since her recent June graduation. Mrs. Richard L. Evans and Annette Elizabeth Buckwalter are her sisters.

Jon is the brother of Mrs. M. D. Kelley, Gregory Stephen Calvert, Jeff Cline and Cynthia Cline. The graduate of Sonora High School will enter Baylor Medical School in Houston an a scholarship next fall.

District Test At Redwood's McGarvey Field

Menlo Park's two Babe Ruth all star teams start their post-season quest for honors Saturday in the San Mateo County Championships at McGarvey Field in Redwood City.

Menlo Park national, coached by Bill Whitaker of Flegel's championship team and Pat Melvin of Fox & Carskadon, may have an easy go in reaching the finals, which will be played Monday.

The National all-stars meet North Redwood City at 10 a.m. Saturday, and if they win, Fair Oaks at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Since the two National opponents are representatives of new Babe Ruth leagues, the opposition may not be too rugged. The Americans, however, aren't so fortunate.

Coaches Skip Miller of pennant winning Rex and Steve Brennan of Red Cottage will march the American dream team against San Carlos at 1 p.m. on Saturday. This is the same San Carlos team that won the national Babe Ruth championship a few summers back.

The Americans will open with Danny Gibson against San Carlos. Gibson, the stocky Lindsay righthander, is best remembered for his 20 strikeouts in one game.

Rex' Tad d'Arc is a cinch to pitch the second game at 4 p.m. Sunday, against the winner of the Redwood City-Burlingame contest. The final game of the single-elimination tourney will be played at 5 p.m. Monday.

Opening for the National League will be one of three pitchers: Cris Courter of Menlo Mufflers, Colby Howe of Flegel's or Ron Starr of Johnson & Mape. Courter pitched a two-hit victory for the Nationals in tournament play last year.

Both National and American coaching staffs agree that they have strong hitting. The National team may have the edge in power.

Topping the American League is Rick DeZur at .455. Other effective hitters are: Art Edge .448, Gibson .422, Dave Young .417, Mike Rockwell .407, Ward Walkup .393, Herman Munill .393, d'Arc .377, Scott Snedeker .369, Dan Smyth .359, Vic Musy .353, Chad Lincoln .353, Rick Betchley .333, Bill Hagman 324, and John Browning .303.

McGarvey Field is located directly behind the Redwood City Recreation Department, at 1120 Roosevelt Ave. Roosevelt Avenue is one block past Five Points, going north on El Camino Real.

Shreve's Nips Morey's For American League Title

HAPPY DAYS . . .

Bill Woolsey's deflated single over third base in the eighth inning drove home Rick Courter with the deciding run as Shreve's squeezed past Morey's 5-4, for the sport shop's second straight American Little League pennant in a championship battle all the way Saturday at La Entrada School.

Courter opened the eighth with a line-drive off-field triple down the right field line. It's possible the Shreve shortstop might have had an inside-the-park home run, had he not slowed down to look back at the ball while rounding second base.

This, however, mattered little as Woolsey hit Robert Zaro's first pitch for a looping pop fly that just carried over the outstretched glove of Morey third baseman Mark Fiser, who collared the ball on the first bounce and threw home a fraction too late to catch the sliding Courter.

Up to that point it could have been and was anybody's game. If spectator sentiment could have had a say in the final outcome, Morey's, itself a true champion, might have won. Chris Connaway of Morey's pitched that good of a game.

For six innings, Connaway pitched a no-hitter, striking out 11 of the league's top hitters. Shreve's had two runs — on errors — off Connaway, who left with the 2-2 at the end of the regulation six innings. Little League rules prevent a starting pitcher from going more than six innings.

Connaway had a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the sixth. He hit Courter with a pitch ball with one out. Courter then went to third on an error and scored on Chris Dolan's ground out.

Morey's climbed on Kerry Stewart and Barry Biggerstaff in the seventh inning for two runs, after Stewart came in to relieve starter Dick Metzger. Danny Murphy walked and Fiser was safe on an error, Murphy going to third. Fiser then stole second.

Jeff Deming's sacrifice hit scored Murphy and Zaro doubled deep to left-center, Fiser tallying on the play. Morey's led 4-2.

Shreve's kept the game alive in the seventh, as Dave Thede was safe on another Morey error. Mike Jauregui singled him to third and both scored on Metzger's clutch two-out double over the center-field's head. In a mix-up, Metzger, thinking ensuing batter Courter had swung at the ball, broke for third and was thrown out.

Courter, unnerved by the play, waited one inning to get his biggest-ever hit while winning pitcher Dennis Zafferano checked Morey's in the eighth.

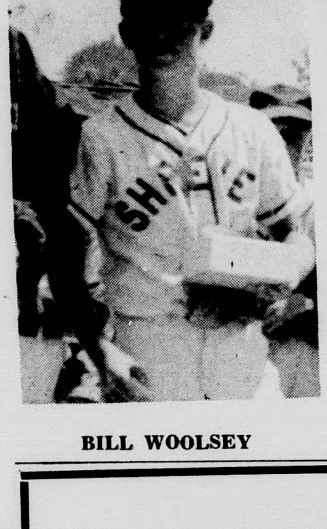

Dave Havard's Morey diamondmen almost scored in the eighth as Dan Roach and Danny Murphy singled, then both executed the double steal. But, Zafferano got Fiser to ground out to Courter to end the Morey threat.

As soon as Courter slid across home plate, the whole Shreve team broke onto the field throwing their arms and caps skyward. They mobbed Courter, Woolsey, Metzger and Zafferano.

While Shreve coaches Steve Ford and Gary Ott happily accepted the championship trophy, the Morey team, unnoticed, had left the playing area, a winner in every way but in the final score.

TRY AGAIN . . .
. . . After missing on the above pitch, Shreve's Rick Courter drilled the next offering for a triple, then scored the winning run on Bill Woolsey's key single.

Menlo LL Stars Wage War

Menlo Park's two Little Leagues head into all star tournament action as District 11, Area's One and Four get underway Friday.

Menlo Park National meets the winner of today's Belmont-Burlingame contest, at 4 p.m. Friday in Belmont. National manager Bob Nelson will probably start either Thomas Graves (10-0) or fireballing Joe Guel (4-2). Both will more than likely see action, with Billy Herman (9-0) and Ken Baker (5-1) ready in relief.

If the National wins, they'll play again Saturday at 3 p.m. Leading the National batters are Bobby Alums .533, Graves .516, Steve Furuta .500, Edmund Harris .464, Gene Delyon .429 and Eric Snedeker .420.

Chris Connaway carries Steve Ford's American all star hopes, as they begin Area Four play 6 p.m. Friday at Mountain View's McKelvey Field. The park is located off Bailey Avenue, one block past Lee Bros. Market in Mountain View, heading south on El Camino Real.

Connaway, a real troublemaker for opponents when on the pitching mound, will start against North Mountain View. A victory would put Menlo into action at McKelvey again Saturday at 3 p.m.

All Star Break:

Ties Hurting National

Menlo Park's National Little League takes time out for all star activity this weekend (See opposite page) then must decide a hatful of tie games that could have a direct bearing on the outcome of the tight championship race.

Kiwanis could have possibly cinched the title with a victory over the Rotary, but instead had to settle for a 9-9 tie with the lower division club.

Kiwanis appeared to break open the game as singles by J. C. Crivello, Bill Herman, Gene Delyon and Lee South contributed towards seven runs in the fourth, which erased a 3-2 Rotary lead. Not to be denied, the stubborn Rotary crew poured across six of their own in the bottom of the fourth as Rick Parsons and Mike Stone each singled home one run and Gary Williams batted in two.

Leonard Ely topped the Rotary 13-2, as Bobby Alums batted a perfect four-for-four, including three doubles for Ely. Johnny Stringer and Joe Guel combined to stop the Rotary on three hits.

Thomas Graves pitched a no-hitter, striking out nine, as Lowe's climbed over the Realtors by a 12-0 score. Graves had two hits, with battery mate Edmund Harris going four-for-four, including a double and a two-run homer, and scoring four runs.

Graves came back for his 10th victory of the year without a loss as Lowe's bested Ely and Guel by a 2-1 margin. Harris' two-out single in the fifth pulled the game out of the fire for Lowe's. Doubles by Alums and Guel in the Ely fifth, gave the auto dealers a 1-0 lead.

Herman got his ninth victory without a single blemish this year, as he tossed Kiwanis to a 15-1 victory over the Lions. Herman only permitted two Lions to hit safely. Ken Baker had two hits for Kiwanis.

Rotary scored three times in the first and added seven more in the fifth to clip the Lions 11-1.

Bill Sundquist pitched All-American Market to a 6-4 win over the Realtors. Chuck Elder had three hits, one of which was a solo home run in a three-run Realtor fifth.

The Lions sharpened their claws and went to work on the Realtors for a 7-2 victory. Richard Young fashioned a neat one-hitter, striking out nine batters. The Realtor's Kenny Schmitz singled to center field in the fifth to break up Young's no-hit bid. The Lions scored five runs in the third inning.

Beh's Ziebron Tosses No-Hit Game to Cap American Year

Bill Ziebron of Beh Realty brought the American Little League season to a sensational close Tuesday, hurling a no-hit, no-run game and giving Beh its first win on the last day of league play at La Entrada School.

Ziebron struck out 13 men as Beh bounced Derry's 6-0. Jess Cavender of Beh led off the game with a home run. He also had a double and single, scoring three runs. Ziebron drove in a run in the third with a double.

Morey's scored four times in the first inning, then held on to turn back Preuss Pharmacy 8-6. Chris Connaway doubled home one run and Dan Roach singled home two more in the Morey first. Tim Crocker had a bases-empty home run in the Preuss third and Pete Hensolt a two-run double in the sixth as Preuss threatened with two runs.

Fast-rising van de Sande, paced by Howard "Dink" Walkup's grand-slam home run, trimmed Derry's 7-3. Eddie Berg of the clothiers fanned 13, while giving up just one hit; a single by Tom Lodato in the Derry three-run fifth.

Shreve's "warmed up" for its successful championship battle with Morey's (see page 14), by barely outlasting Preuss 8-7. Bill Woolsey had two hits and three RBI's for Shreve's, while Crocker walloped three hits and Paul Lorenzen two for Preuss.

Seybold's Gregory Sagar fired a three-hitter in stopping Derry's 5-2. Steve Vignau and Tom Price smashed run-scoring singles for Seybold.

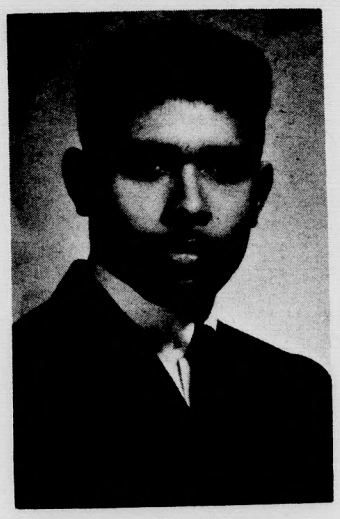

Van de Sande's Walkup socked his second home run in two games, and collected three hits for a total of four RBI's, to pace the wardrobemen to a 7-5 win over Beh.

Alex Lawrence was a perfect three-for-three and scored twice for van de Sande. Cavender had three hits and Ziebron two for a pair of RBI's for Beh.

Rob Brassea pitched Preuss to a 5-2 victory over Seybold's. Brassea, Crocker and Bill O'Connell all had two hits, and Ziebron a run-producing triple for Preuss.

The 42 NORTHERN CALIFORNIA COUNTIES CARPENTERS VACATION TRUST FUND was created by a Trust Agreement made and entered into on the 25th day of November, 1960, by and between the Northern and Central California Chapter, The Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., acting for the 42 counties area of Northern California, as Employers, and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, acting for and on behalf of the affiliated District Councils and Local Unions, as Union, pursuant to collective bargaining agreements between said Employers and other signatory employer organizations and said Union.

VI

As to all amounts alleged in this complaint, defendants, and each of them, promised and agreed in writing on or about January 19, 1954 and again on May 7, 1956 and again on February 11, 1957 that they, and each of them, would contribute and pay to the Funds shown on Exhibit "A", attached hereto and incorporated herein as though fully set forth herein, the hourly amounts indicated in said Exhibit for each hour worked by any of the employeees who are covered by any of said collective bargaining agreements and that they, and each of them, would be subject to and bound by all of the terms, provisions and conditions of the Trust Agreement applicable to said Funds; that said defendants, and each of them, promised and agreed in writing that said payments would be made to said Funds effective for work performed on or after January 19, 1954, September 1, 1955 and February 11, 1957.

VII

By virtue of said written agreements, said defendants, and each of them, promised and agreed that they, and each of them, would pay said contributions into said Funds in San Francisco, California, in regular monthly installments commencing on or before the respective dates indicated in paragraph VI of this complaint and continuing from month to month thereafter; that in the event that any of said monthly contributions was not paid in full on or before the 25th day of the months in which said contributions became due, they, and each of them, would pay an additional sum of Twenty Dollars ($20.00) or ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the contribution due, whichever was greater, into the Funds in San Francisco, California, as and for liquidated damages and not as a penalty; and that in the event that any suit with respect to any of said contributions or payments was filed against them, or any of the them, said defendants, and each of them, would pay into the Funds in San Francisco, California, reasonable attorneys' fees, court costs and all other reasonable expenses incurred by the Funds in connection with such suit.

VIII

At the time said agreements were entered into, damages in the event of a breach would have been impracticable or extremely difficult of ascertainment and said additional sum of Twenty Dollars ($20.00) or ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the contribution due each month represented a reasonable endeavor to ascertain what such damages would be.

IX

Defendants, and each of them, have defaulted in the performance of said written agreements and plaintiffs allege that, by virtue of said default, there is now due, owing and unpaid to plaintiffs from defendants, and each of them, the amounts set forth in full in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein as though fully set forth herein; the sum of Six hundred and 00/100 Dollars ($600.00) as and for attorneys' fees in connection with this suit; and interest at the legal rate on each of said sums from the respective due dates thereof.

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs pray judgment against defendants, and each of them, as follows:

1. For the sum of $2,968.50 as alleged in paragraph IX above;
2. For the sum of $600.00 as and for attorneys' fees;
3. For interest as hereinabove alleged;
4. For plaintiffs' cost of suit; and
5. For such other and further relief as the court may deem proper.

Warriors Carry Off AA Championship in Recreation Department Cage League

The Warriors, although suffering its first defeat of the season, has wrapped up the AA league championship in Menlo Park Recreation Department's senior summer cage play which concluded last night at Menlo-Atherton.

The Warriors were 8-1 through Monday evening, which gave them a two-game lead over the second place Rollins Realty Blues five (6-3), with one game to go. The Misfits achieved what no other AA team could do this summer, thumping the Warriors 47-42 July 10.

Gary Vandeweghe scored 15 points and Mike Ledgerwood added 12 for the Misfits, who held a 25-17 halftime lead. Paul Mathews was the only Warrior to garner double figures, with 14 markers.

The new champions resurged Monday evening to bounce Congdon & Crome 66-47. Charley Wade pumped home 15 points, Mathews 12 and Don Pressley 10. Charley Bowles led the stationery quint with 10.

Milky Johnson's 30-foot jumper in sudden death gave the Rollins Whites a 54-52 win over Congdon & Crome. Jeff Cudworth, former Sequoia great who heads for Oregon State this fall, led all scorers with 17 points. Bill Smith guided the losers with 11.

Project Associates dumped the Blues 50-37. League-leading scorer John Arrillaga did not play for the Blues, and his absence was evident. The Winfield brothers — Al and Ted — scored 14 and 11 points respectively to paint a big upset for Project. Bub Bowling had nine points and Joe Braun eight for the Blues.

The Misfits drew nearer to a .500 season by throttling Project Associates 50-46. Vandeweghe looped in 19 points and Ledgerwood added 12 to head the winners, while Ted Winfield bucketed 12 for Project.

Arrillaga returned to temporarily cement the Blues hold on second place, totaling 28 points, as the Blues rolled over the third-place Whites 69-53.

Arrillaga's big-point display is the individual game high this season. Bowling contributed 15 more to the Blues attack, while three former Ravenswood courtmen, — Nate Branch with 14, Johnson hitting 12, and Raybon 11, carried the White's scoring load.

Easley poured in 20 points as the Trojans bombarded San Carlos 63-36. Barry Booker added 14 and Jim Bradley 10

Ravenswood, with seven straight league wins, topped Cubberley 44-35. Ron Ban and Garland Davis both registered 10 points, with Easley close behnd at nine. Chris Neal spearheaded the South Palo Alto Cougars with 10.

Shank scored 41 points in two games as Woodside gained uncontested control of second place. Big Harvey had 23 as the Cats pinned a 54-38 setback on Sequoia. George Collins led the Cherokees with 13.

It was Shank again with 18, as Woodside hiked its record to 6-1 by tumbling Menlo-Atherton 42-31. Lee Schiff meshed 10 more for Woodside.

Cubberley closed out A action with a forfeit win over Carlmont. The only Scot to show up for the scheduled game was head coach Gene Hawley.

Palo Alto, having played one more game than Sequoia and Woodside, held on to its B division lead by taking a forfeit contest from San Carlos.

Woodside trimmed Cubberley 26-23 as John Steckel topped the Cat scorers with 12 points.

The Trojan lightweights capped a busy week of activity by winning two other outings. Don Oliver tanked a jump shot from the key with eight seconds showing on the clock to upend the pacesetting Vikes 49-47. Oliver led the victors in pointmaking with 16, while teammate Ernie Bryant added 14. Wayne Caruth bucketed 17 and Rudy Cambra 13 for Palo Alto.

Bill Edwards sank 12, as the Trobabes thumped San Carlos 41-21.

'B', Kelleman Nines Share Softball Lead

Busy "B" and Kelleman finished in a two-way tie for the first-half championship in the Menlo Park Recreation Department summer softball league, which concluded last week at Nealon Park.

The "B" and Kelleman are both 4-1, with Carriage—formerly in a three-way tie with the front-runners, dropping its only outing.

Spinner Johnston weaved a four-hitter and struck out eight as Busy "B" toppled SRI 7-4. Johnston had a no-hitter going into the fifth inning, when SRI scored three times. Ron Reid had a home run for the losers.

The "B" which powered across five runs in the sixth inning, was paced once again at the plate by Shibun Tana, with three hits in four at bats.

Frank Jurian fashioned a six-hitter as Kelleman murdered ITT Kellogg 26-2. Bob Dobbins strode to the plate six times, collecting four hits including a home run for Kelleman, who scored a whopping 12 runs in the seventh stanza.

Jurian homered and tripled, adding to the 25-hit Kelleman offensive.

The Geats, taking advantage of pitching wildness and costly errors, busted loose for a 12-2 win over the Carriage. The Geat swingers scored seven times in the second inning, in a game called due to a time limit at the end of the fourth.

Carriage defense fell apart for six errors. John Antush banged out two hits in three plate appearances an dtallied two runs for the Geats. Each team had only four hits.

The Carriage is now 3-2 in third place, followed by SRI an dthe Geats at 2-3 and ITT Kellogg at 1-4.

Adobe Post 828 Drops Two American Legion Games; Now One Game Out of First

Adobe Post 828 is now discovering the anquish of being one game off the pace with but two league games to go, as the Menlo glovemen dropped a weekend double-header in American Legion league play.

San Mateo, San Carlos and Redwood City all sport 5-3 records in a three-way deadlock for the district lead. Adobe is even at 4-4, followed by Millbrae at 3-5 and South San Francisco at 2-6.

Twelve runs is usually enough to win in any class of baseball. Such was not the case Sunday, as Millbrae tripped Post 828 13-12 at Burgess Field.

Adobe held or regained the lead on three different occasions, the last time at 11-9 in the seventh inning. Millbrae scored twice in both the eighth and ninth innings to bid "aloha" to Adobe's winning hopes.

Frank Bettencourt's troops outhit Millbrae 15-10, clubbing five home runs into Burgess' open pastures. Bob Burrill had two, and brother Dick Burrill, Russ Tweet and John Hofferd one each—all to no avail.

Dick South hit a grand-slam homer in the Millbrae fifth to erase a 5-2 Menlo lead. John Hofferd gave up four unearned runs after coming on in relief of Dennis Ojeda in the eighth inning, to get the pitching loss.

All of Adobe's homers, with the exception of Hofferd's came with the bases empty. Hofferd hit his with one on in the seventh.

Ernie Berg and Hofferd each had three hits for the locals, with Mel Shuman and Bob Burrill adding two apiece. Hofferd collected three RBI's.

Menlo got one of the runs back in the ninth, Willie Christiansen was safe on an error, Bob Burrill walked and Berg singled to right-center scoring Christiansen. Shuman was walked intentionally to load the sacks, but Rod Pommes struck out after a squeeze bunt attempt failed and Dick Burrill grounded hard into a force at third base to end the game.

Saturday, San Carlos got two runs on a clutch fifth-inning single by Art Ellis, to snuff out a 2-1 Adobe lead and pace San Carlos to a 4-2 win at Burgess.

Jerry Argrilla was the winning pitcher, settling down to a nifty four-hit victory after a shaky beginning.

Shuman banged one of Argrilla's offerings for a home run in the second inning. Menlo scored its second and final run in the third as Mike Curtis singled, stole second and came home as Tweet's grounder was being thrown away.

Ellis batted across three runs and Bob Varrelman two hits in four at bats for the winners.

Pommes bunted safely in the Adobe seventh, moving to third on Christiansen's single. Christiansen took second on the throw. Ensuing Adobe batsmen failed to bring them in as Argrilla bristled and got two men out in rapid order.

Pommes singled with one out in the ninth, but again died on base.

The only team willing to even consider playing dead for Adobe's benefit, was the Marty Christiansen all stars, fell 9-5 at Burgess July 10.

Dick Burrill slammed a home run in the eighth inning for his third hit and third run batted in for Adobe. Berg was two-for-five with two RBI's and Tweet third-for-three for the men of Frank Bettencourt, who are co-sponsored by the Menlo Park Recreation Department.

Mark Ackerman, who relieved starter Curtis in the fourth, was the winner. Ojeda worked the seventh inning. Adobe led in the hit parade 11-9.

Encinal Program Openings Listed Toastmasters Seek

The summer recreation program at Encinal School still has openings in the pre-school program and the sewing classes, announced Mrs. Karl Sterne, PTA chairman.

The pre-school program is divided into three groups for children entering kindergarten in the fall this year and next year and for those entering first grade this fall. Marilyn Griffin who is an experienced pre-school teacher is handling the morning program. Fee for the classes is $10.

The sewing class which is taught by Mrs. Frances Stacy is open to girls entering the fourth through eighth grades. Classes are Tuesday and Wednesday mornings from 9:30-11:30 or 11:30-1:30. Sewing machines are provided, and the charge for the class is $8.

There are also openings in the general crafts and sports program. The crafts program features work with plastics, coppen enameling, paint and crayon with some dramatics and creative writing. Mrs. Susan Brewer is the instructor and the fee is $8.

The sports program which is completely supported by the Town of Atherton offers softball, hardball, volleyball, tumbling and other activities. Summer recreation directors are Betty Hoeh nand Bill Symon.

The Encinal school playground is supervised from 9:30-4:00 from Mondays through Fridays until August 16. Children can participate in the directed programs or have quiet or court games during the day. For further information and registration call Mrs. Sterne at EM 8-0177 or Mrs. Robert McClure at DA 4-3973.

The summer recreation program is sponsored jointly by the Encinal PTA and the Town of Atherton and is open to any interested children.

Red Cross Lifesaving At M-A Pool

Registration for the final sessions of the Red Cross life-saving classes at Menlo-Atherton High School will be taken at the M-A pool July 26.

The classes run from July 29-Aug. 9 between 9:30 and 11 a.m.

The requirements for the junior lifesaving course are that the applicant be at least 12 year sold or going into seventh grade and be able to pass a preliminary swim test. An applicant for senior lifesaving must also pass a preliminary test, and be at least 16 years or a junior. Upon passing these courses, the student receives a card good for three years.

Adult swim classes are offered at both M-A and Woodside pools every Tuesday and Thursday night from 7-9, July 25-Aug. 8.

Recreational swimming periods are open to the public at both schools. The Woodside pool is open from 1-5 p.m. daily, and 7-9 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The M-A pool is open 2:30-4:30 p.m. Monday-Friday, and 7-9 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Area Gun Club Holds Hunter Safety Class

The Menlo Park Gun Club will sponsor a hunter safety class for all prospective hunters, juniors and adults, Saturday, July 20, at Stanford University's Jordan Hall, Room 430.

Class begins at 12:30 p.m. under the direction of safety instructors William Groshart, Milton Buck and Ira Wiggins.

A shooting session will be held for those who pass the written test Friday night, July 26, at 7 p.m. in the Stanford Rifle Range.

Those wishing to take the course will please bring pencils or pens. Books and other training materials, including ammunition and rifles will be provided for a fee of $2.50.

PUT A WANT AD TO WORK FOR YOU

Famed Potter In Stanford Exhibition

Shoji Hamada, the leading potter of Japan, will demonstrate his skill Wednesday evening, July 24, at 8 o'clock in Schultz Auditorium, located north of the museum on the Stanford University campus.

Following his demonstration a committee for art at Stanford will honor Mr. Hamada at a reception in the foyer of the museum where some fifteen of the artist's most recent works will be exhibited.

As a part of the lecture-demonstration, there will be a film showing the artist at work at his farm in the village of Mashiko, north of Tokyo. Artists come from all over the world to work with Mr. Hamada. On the farm are three large kilns, each used to achieve different firing results.

Hamada believes in simplicity and honesty of workmanship and limits the pigments used in his slips and materials used in his glazes. Local clays are carefully prepared for use on the wheel.

Southern Cal, UCLA Camps House Preps

UCLA and USC will be the training camp sites for the squads that will contest the Shrine's 12th annual North-South football classic at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, Thursday night, Aug. 1.

The two 25-man squads will report to camp Sunday.

The North will be quartered at UCLA, under the direction of coaches Bob Berry (Willow Glen of San Jose) and Bob Troppmann (Redwood of Larkspur). The South will be piloted by Gene Rowland (Wilson of Long Beach) and Ernie Johnson (El Rancho of Pico Rivera) and will stay at USC.

The players will arrive in Los Angeles on Saturday. They'll be honored with a luncheon, visit the Los Angeles unit of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children (game proceeds to go to the hospital) in the afternoon, and attend a show at Shrine Auditorium that evening.

Tickets for the game, priced at $5, $3, and $1.50, may be obtained by writing the Shrine Football Office, 655 W. Jefferson Blvd., Los Angeles 7, or by calling RI 9-0166.

Errors, Walks Hurt:

Policemen Drop Three Contests

To play winning baseball, you've got to get the ball over the plate and hold onto ground balls. Doing the opposite usually means dropping a bundle of games, as the Menlo Park Police Athletic League nine found out in one week's time.

Three PAL pitchers combined to serve up 15 bases on balls July 10, as Palo Alto's American Legion Post 375 snowed the locals 16-6 for the first of three games the Policemen were to lose, all at Flood Park.

The disaster the walks had on the final outcome of the game is evident as Palo Alto only outhit their cross-creek opponents 8-7. The game was in reach of the Police team, until the fifth when Palo Alto poured across five runs. For good measure they added five more in the sixth.

Dan Harrington started for the PALer's, going four full innings, before being relieved by Bob Hall in the big Palo Alto fifth. When Post 375 went to work on Hall in the sixth, Darryl DeZur came in to finally stop the blitz.

The majority of Palo Alto scoring came after Menlo pitchers had put runners on via free passes. Fifteen walks averages out to more than two per inning.

Harrington, unsuccessful on the mound, was tough at the plate. He had only one one hit in four at bats, but it was a two-run double. A walk with the bases loaded gave him three runs batted in for the night. Bill Bonnat was two-for-four with two RBI's, while Gus Bayle had two hits. Steve Tipton was walked with the bases full, giving him an RBI.

The Pittsburg Boy's Club came into Flood for a doubleheader Sunday and left after spilling the PAL club twice, 10-5 and 7-5.

Steve Ford, recent addition to the PAL roster, threw about the third game in his life in the opener. He scattered nine hits, giving up nine runs, of which only one was unearned. The leaky PAL defense fell apart for 12 errors.

Ford, who volunteered to pitch, left the game in the fifth inning, a victim of his teammate's "greasy" hands. Harington worked the final two innings, giving up the last Pittsburg run.

Pittsburg decided the game with three runs in the fifth and five more in the sixth. Harrington had two hits, including a bases-empty inside-the-park home run. His other safety was a two-run single, giving him three RBI's. He also scored twice.

Bonnat socked a double for one run in two official times at bat.. Ford, had a run-scoring hit, while Dick Copenhagen batted out one hit in three trips to the plate. The boy's club led i ntotal hits, 10-5.

Menlo decided to make a game out of it in the nightcap, an dtrailed by only one run as late as the sixth inning. Bill Leffler went all the way, permitting nine hits, and receiving the loss.

Pittsburg jumped into a 4-3 lead in the fourth, increased that margain to three with a pair of runs in the fifth and pushed across one more in the seventh to close out of the scoring.

Harrington, the former Bellarmine Prep star, again paced the Police squad, with two hits in three at bats. One of his hits, was a solid single driving across a pair of runs. Hall unloaded a two-run double, and Bonnat delivered a single for all of Menlo's RBI's. Bill Young and Ford each cracked out safeties to close out Menlo's seven-hit total.

The PAL bunch threatened to rip the game open after scoring two runs i nthe fifth, as Leffler walked and Harrington and Ford banged out singles to load the bases. The boy's club said "nix" to this set-up and retired the side without any more damage being done.

Palo Alto Idependents Running Roughshod Over South Peninsula Pony League Nines

The Palo Alto Independents were pushed to the hilt twice by Ken's House of Pancakes, but managed to squeak out two close victories and preserve their unbeaten status in South Peninsula Pony League play Saturday.

The Independent nine, which has an impressive 18-0 record, defeated Ken's by 9-8 and 10-9 scores at El Camino Park, the latter being the playoff of a tie game.

Winning pitcher Randy Bangham pitched 3⅔ innings, as Palo Alto finally broke the playoff game tie on a single by Bob Melosh, who then scored the winning run.

Palo Alto's John McLaughlin pitched an eight-hitter to nip Ken's in the regular seven-inning contest. McLaughlin also had two hits at bat.

Andy Wyatt was the big Palo Alto thorn in the pancakemen's side, as he hit safely twice, scored twice and drove in a pair of runs. Bob Savage also had two hits, including a triple, and drove in two runs for the Independents.

Tom Barrett and Jim Edwards connected safely twice for Ken's.

The Independents won their third game of the week in squaring Sexton, Sossaman & Winston 18-1. Melosh pitched a two-hitter for Palo Alto.

Wyatt again had a field day: with two hits, four runs batted in, two runs scored and three stolen bases. Palo Alto's Mark Brewick and Tony Kozy each had two hits in four at bats, both getting a two-base hit. Brewick belted across two runs.

Rick Alexander got both of the SSW hits off Melosh.

Menlo Mixers tripped the Palo Alto Lions 15-5, as winning pitcher Darby Fuerst pitched a three-hiter, striking out seven. The Lions' Keith Alexander reached Fuerst for two of the three hits the former served up.

Gleim's Jewelers worked over Sexton, Sossaman & Winston 16-4, as Art Faulman, despite wildness, managed to come out of the contest with a one-hit victory. Alexander proved to be the spoiler with a scratch infield hit in the fourth inning.

Faulman, who collected two hits, struck out nine and walked a whopping 12. Regis Snyder was a perfect two-for-two for Gleim's.

R. R. Maloney, your Telephone Manager for Menlo Park

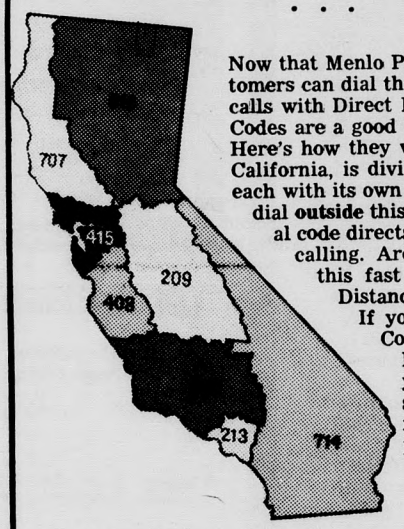

One item in your house contains so many substances it would make a chemist blink. Gold, tin, and anthracite coal, for instance. Sound like quite a mixture? Then add some nylon, rubber and steel. And a bit of copper, cotton and silver, too. Actually, these are just a few of over 40 raw materials used to make the 475 parts of your telephone. Makes the phone one of the most intricate appliances in your house. Yet one of the most reliable.

• • •

Travel tip: After you reach your vacation spot, call the folks back home. They will be glad to know you arrived safely.

• • •

Now that Menlo Park and Palo Alto customers can dial their own Long Distance calls with Direct Distance Dialing, Area Codes are a good thing to keep in mind. Here's how they work. The nation, like California, is divided into calling areas, each with its own Area Code. When you dial outside this area, the three-numeral code directs you to the area you're calling. Area Codes are the key to this fast and convenient Long Distance service.

If you would like an Area Code Handbook for faster Long Distance service, you may obtain one by stopping by our business office at 420 Cowper Street, Palo Alto.

Heard this story about the sheriff of a small town who is also its veterinarian? Late one night he got a frantic phone call. "Do you want me as sheriff or vet?" he asked. "Both", came the reply. "We can't get our dog's mouth open, and there's a burglar in it!" (Just goes to show that the telephone can sure be a help in unusual situations.)

If you're driving through wooded areas this summer, you'll see plenty of Smokey the Bear signs, for he's hard at work reminding everyone to be extra careful with cigarettes, matches and campfires. With your help, Smokey will continue to do a fine job of preserving our country's forests.

Add Janes Meet:

Palo Alto Club Sweeps Relay Test; Locals Top Swim Loop

Trident Swim Club of Palo Alto won the fourth annual Peninsula Swimming Association Relay Meet held at Menlo Park's Add Janes Swim Club pool Saturday.

Team point scores were: Trident 123, Add Janes 113, Cherry Chase 112, Green Meadow 6.

Age-group trophies were divided evenly. Add Janes scored highest in 14-and-under, and the 6-and-under races. Trident won the 10-and-under, and 8-and-under. Cherry Chase took the 17-and-under and 12-and-under.

Steve Dilg, George Packard, Chuck Johnson and Greg Burns; Nan Taylor, Jane Taylor, Susan Taylor, Patty Barron and Sherry Vaughn contributed freestyle and medley relay victories to win the 14-and-under trophy for Add Janes.

Rob Mack, Greg Worth, Jim Peyton, Rob Bellevue, Jean Winnemute, Dianne Wolfsohn, Ann Franz and Diane Bohnstedt were winners of the 6-and-under team.

Bryan Adachi, Keith Hippen, Dan Streibel, Peter Latham and John Sequeira won two 12-and-under boys relays for Add Janes.

Coach Jim Carniato's Add Janes team leads the Peninsula Swimming Association as the result of two recent dual meet wins in their pool.

The local swimmers dunked Green Meadow Club of Palo Alto 173 to 80, and outscored the tough Palo Alto Tridents 206 to 203.

Ray Taylor, boys 16-and-under, was a triple Janes' winner agannst the Tridents. Double winners for the Menlo team were: Patty Barron, girls 14-and-under; Chuck Johnson and Greg Burns, boys 14-and-under; Nan Taylor, girls 12-and-under; Elsie Metcalf, girls 10 and under; Danny Striedel and Brian Adachi, boys 10-and-under, and Bob Peyton, boys 8-and-under.

Tridents' triple winners were Diane Elkington, girls 16-and-under; Roberta McKann, girls 6-and-under; Paul Schrier, boys 6 and under, and Linda Ashley, girls 8-and-under. Ellen Schrier was a double winner in the girls 10-and-under.

The Add Janes team will try to maintain their unbeaten dual meet record against the Cherry Chase Club of Sunnyvale Saturday at the Janes' Swim Club pool.

'Fanny' Has Comedia Opening Night Soon

"Fanny," the musical play that was one of New York's biggest hits for over two years, will be the next attraction at the Comedia Theater, opening Friday evening, July 26, at 8:30.

Some of the most notable talents of the American theatre were employed in putting together this lyrical adaptation of three famous French stories about the Marseilles waterfront in the early 1920's.

The adaptation is credited to S. N. Behrman, author of some 20 American comedies, and Joshua Logan, who is renowned not only for his co-authorship of such hits as "South Pacific," and "Mister Roberts," but also for being one of the current stage's most brilliant directors.

Harold Rome, who composed the words and music of "Wish You Were Here," and most recently "Destry Rides Again," has written the score to "Fanny."

This poignant and appealing story is concerned with young love, old love, and deep friendship. At the center of the story are two old cronies of the Marceilles waterfront. One of them —Cesar, owner of a barroom and father of Marius (Stuart Scott) is hopeful of training his son to mix drinks with the same skill that he has developed, and to enter Cesar's prosperous business. Cesar will be acted and sung here by Warner Scott.

His warm friend—Panisse, to be acted by Aldo Calcagno, is as jolly as most fat men are supposed to be, but who is concerned about growing old without ever having married and never having an heir for his lucrative nautical-supply business.

The show centering around Cesar and Panisse is entitled "Fanny," because a girl of that name (Holly Engle) brings them into an even closer relationship than they had ever dreamed.

Fanny is the sweetheart of the boy, Marius, and although they love each other, Marius is also enchanted with ideas of world-travel. Living near the Marseilles docks, he has listened to sailors' tales of the Orient and other far places, and feels the irresistible call of the sea.

When a berth opens on a ship, he runs away to sea—leaving heartbreak not only with his deserted father, but also with his deserted sweetheart, who is soon to bear his child.

One of the features of "Fanny" is the famous scene in an Arabian dive where Marius goes to get a whiff of the exotic foreign lands he craves to visit, and there witnesses the oriental dance that was the talk of New York throughout the long run of "Fanny" there (1954-6).

This spicy number will be performed at the Comedia Theatre by Emily Newbury. Others in the cast include David Weber as Cesario, Stuart Spence as the Admiral, and Michael Conant as Escartifique.

The entire production has been staged by Aldo Bozzini, the picturesque costumes of Marseilles have been designed by Judith Presch, the musical direction is in the hands of Robert MacKinnon, and Celia Wilson has set the colorful dances.

Concert Band Music Program In Palo Alto

The Peninsula Community Band will present a program of concert band music Monday, July 29, at 8 p.m. in the Palo Alto High School amphitheater.

The group is organized on a year-around basis for advanced adult musicians. However, during the summer the band is augmented with accomplished college and high school musicians.

The 65-piece band presently has members from San Bruno to Santa Clara. It is conducted by Nathan Chasin, Menlo Park.

Included in the band concert will be the ballet "Prince Igor" by A. Borodin; overture "Semiramide," by G. Rossini; intermezzo from "Goyescas," by E. Granados; "San Francisco El Grando," by E. Lecuona; "In the Steppes of Central Asia," by A. Borodin; "King and I," by R. Rodgers, and "Carousel," by R. Rodgers.

Featured as soloist will be French horn player Michael Diskin. The "Romanza," from the second movement of Horn Concerto No. 3, K.447 by Mozart will be performed by Diskin.

Openings for advanced adult musicians are anticipated for the fall. Applicants who play tympani, snare drum, French horn, B flat and E flat clarinet, trombone and flute should call Robert L. Holland, DA 6-5623, in the evening.

Pre-Fabricaed Garden Pool Adds Coolness with Little Cost and Easy Installation

Do you ever long for the refreshing presence of water in the garden? Epecially running water? Few things can add more to the illusion of coolness on a hot summer day. And few things are more relaxing on a summer evening than to hear the trickle of a garden fountain or a "stream" nearby.

With only a little effort and a modest bit of financing, these dreams can become a reality. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen distribute a variety of pools and small circulating pumps which can be installed easily and inexpensively in the garden setting. They range in style from small plastic bowls to large, pre-cast concrete pools.

The beauty of these pre-fab pools lies in their flexibility. They can be installed anywhere in the garden, including a deck. And they can even be used in a Lanai. Your C.A.N. nurserymen will suggest possible arrangements when more than one "pool" is used so that the water runs off from one to the other before being pumped back to the top to start all over again.

When water on a larger scale is desired, a specially construct pool will be necessary. This gives you the ultimate of pool pleasure in a garden and while the cost is more than ready-made pools, the permanent enjoyment is greater, too. Here again a nurseryman can help you with the plans first by visiting your garden and suggesting the preferred location for a pool, then by helping you with the design. His final contribution, of course, will be in suggesting a planting for the poolside.

This latter is all important, for the proper planting helps to enhance the feeling of coolness which a pool conveys. Improper planting can make the pool seem out of place. The plants will have no apparent relation to the water and the pool, in turn, has no apparent relation to its surroundings.

What plans are "naturals" for poolside planting? One of the first that comes to mind is the Paper Reed family. These reed like plants look as though they might grow naturally on the banks of the Nile, and, indeed, they would look unnatural without having water at their feet.

C.A.N. members offer several of them including the tall growing variety which carries the family name—a thatch topped reed of some six feet in height. Another, dwarfer form, is the Umbrella Plant, which sports grass like heads of green atop three-foot reed stems.

Another family of plants which has an affinity for water is the Daylily family. These one-time commoners, have undergone many changes for the better in recent years.

Today's gardener has a wide variety of colors to choose from when he buys Daylilies, and as for bloom, they are almost always in bloom during the warm months, which is when we appreciate their presence by a pool. Plant them right at the margin of a pool, so both the blooms and the grass-like foliage will arch over the water.

Bearded Iris are not bog plants by any means, but you can plant them on the upside of a pool, where their roots are not apt to stand in seeping water. There, in spring, their colorful flags will be reflected in the surface of the pool and in off seasons, their sword-like foliage will carry the interest. Other iris should also be planted at pool's side, including the bulbous Dutch varieties and the Japanese Iris.

For creeping plants, you can hardly do wrong with Carpet Bugle, a moisture loving ground cover which will rim the edge of your pool, sending up small spikes of blue flowers through almost half the year.

Among the annuals, you will find the versatile lobelia happy at waters edge, producing a mounding cover of tiny blue flowers through the summer months and into fall.

There are many others, including the Calla lilies, which any C.A.N. member can show you. The above give you a good start, and you can take it from there.

The Bottle Brush: A Quality Shrub

You can't help noticing the Bottle Brush in California. From San Diego north, they flaunt their bright red blooms from a thousand gardens, growing more prevalent than ever as the years go by.

There's good reason, too, for our increasing interest in these Australian imports. Over the past years, western plantsmen have upgraded the quality of the family as a whole—propagating only those with the fullest and reddest blooms. And while you see some venerable specimens from years gone by, the majority of today's Bottle Brushes are vigorous young shrubs of highly refined character.

Being natives of Australia, the Bottle Brush family is ideally suited to California's climate. Like Tea Trees, Victorian Box and other imports from Down Under, they tolerate the extended drought of our summer months and appreciate the year-round temperance of our weather. You can give them any degree of sun and all the neglect you want—they'll produce their annual crop of bottle-brush blooms without complaint.

Though all members of the family produce red blooms, one in particular has bigger and brighter blooms than the others. It is this one which members of the California Association of Nurserymen refer to as the Red Bottle Brush, and needless to say, it is the most widely sold member of the family.

It is an upright shrub—or upright as any Bottle Brush can be, for their natural tendency is toward irregular growth. You find it in C.A.N. nurseries trained as an espalier and also offered as a standard tree, pruned up to a single erect trunk. These are highly useful against a sunny south wall or against the south side of a fence in full sun.

In the Garden:

Old-Fashioned Arbor Has Beauty, Practicality

If you think an arbor of vines is old fashioned, you're right. But what a nice old-fashioned custom it is to have one. In California, where where bright sun is a summer-long affair, the vine arbor can be both beautiful and practical.

In its practical application, the vine arbor today becomes an extension of the house, shading a south terrace or reducing the glare from a west exposure. It can serve an additional practical use, also, when the arbor is a grape vine, heavy with late-summer bunches of grapes.

Grapes are usually on the winter planting list, when they are bare root, but as with roses, they can be planted from containers anytime the notion hits you. From container to arbor cover takes time, of course, but the sooner you start the sooner will you enjoy the result.

In planting a grape arbor, the gardener must choose between planting grapes of European origin or one of our native grapes from eastern America. The European varieties include Thompson Seedless, which is one of the best arbor grapes to be found. It is vigorous, a heavy producer and the favorite eating grape on the market. The eastern grapes include those familiar varieties, Concord and Pierce, which slip out of their skins when you squeeze them. These, too, are good arbor grapes, ripening early and producing heavy crops—and shade.

Best stick to one variety when planting grapes on an arbor, not only for uniformity but to reduce the pruning process to a minimum. Your nurseryman can give you a rundown on pruning grapes, so suffice it here to say that different varieties require different techniques.

Other than grapes, an excellent vine for arbors is the wisteria. Of truly remarkable vigor, the wisteria will cover a tremendous area, clothing it with lovely pendulous blooms in earliest spring and with foliage through summer and fall.

In selecting these vines gardeners can choose between Japanese wisterias with their huge pannicles of blooms—up to 24 inches long. Flower color in both is primarily lavender, but purple, white and rose-pink forms can also be found in area nurseries.

Wisterias are gross feeders and the gardener can help them off to a quick start by providing a good rich root run at planting time. Dig a trench several feet long and when you return the soil, mix it copiously with manure. The roots will soon run out of this and the vine will settle down to slower growth—a signal that it is also settling down to the business of bloom.

Deciduous vines such as grape and wisteria are usually preferred to arbors up next to the house because of their built-in climate control. In winter, when the sun's rays are usually welcome, deciduous vines are leafless and permit the sun to come in. In summer when the sun beats down, they put on leaves to shield you from it.

There are, however, various evergreen vines which are suited to use on arbors and pergolas, among these the Burmese Honeysuckle, comes nearest to being the perfect evergreen for arbors, for it produces a loose enough fabric to admit some light in winter, yet is dense enough to provide shelter in summer. Large glossy leaves and long, tubular "honeysuckle" flowers are further marks in its favor. You could look long to find a better vine than this.

BONSAI IN GARDENS

Are you looking for a garden hobby. Try bonsai, or a variation of it by planting some of your favorite shrubs in small containers and keeping them in check by frequent pinching. Pyracantha, Japanese Maple, various pines, and other conifers make good subjects to start with, according to nurserymen. Heavy wire and selective pruning will make them grow in the shape and direction you want them to.

ROSES GOOD ANYTIME

Roses are available for planting anytime during the year, and while most of them go in the ground during winter's bare-root season, many gardeners prefer to shop for them when they are full of bloom. You can find most of the popular new varieties in local nurseries this month.
